'One-Package' Bill Drafted As Taft-Hartley Repealer

WASHINGTON—(UP)—The White House today put the finishing touches on a new labor-management bill that would repeal the Taft-Hartley law, revive the Wagner act with some changes, and strengthen the labor department.

The bill was slated to be sent to Capitol Hill late today or tomorrow. It was to be introduced by the chairmen of the House and Senate labor committees. The latter group planned to start hearings tomorrow with Labor Secretary Maurice J. Tobin as the first witness.

Informed sources said the administration bill "will not contain a comma, preposition or a definite article that appears in the Taft-Hartley law." Based on the so-called "single package" approach, the measure is said to call for repeal of the present labor-management law, and reenactment of the Wagner act of 1935 with four amendments suggested by President Truman.

It was outlined last night at a White House meeting of the President's top labor advisers. Present besides Tobin were the federal mediation director, Cyrus S. Ching; Paul M. Herzog and Abe Murdock, chairman and member, respectively, of the National Labor Relations board: and presidential aides John R. Steelman and Clark Clifford.

Under the new bill, the present five-man labor board would be retained, instead of being cut back to three members as it was under the Wagner act.

The independent office of General Counsel Robert N. Denham would be abolished. Its authority over unfair labor complaints, injunctions and administration of NLRB field offices would be handed back to the board itself.

Neither Denham nor anyone from his

Dems OK Tugend, Sword

Get Nod For Highway Jobs

Former County Engineer Howard Sword and Clarence G. Tugend today held Democratic committee endorsements for appointment to state highway posts in the district and county.

Sword, now an engineering aide to County Engineer Walter Rusk, was endorsed for one of four assistant engineering posts in the Ashland division highway office.

Tugend, who was Richland county highway superintendent during the former administration of Gov. Frank J. Lausche, was endorsed for reappointment to the job. Glenn M. Swanger, Shiloh, a Republican, now holds the county highway superintendency.

The endorsements were among several made last night by the county Democratic executive committee. Each of the eight counties in the Ashland highway division makes endorsements for the division posts which are forwarded to Joseph Tomsic, division engineer, who makes the appointments.

OTHERS OK'D

Others endorsed for jobs with the department at Ashland were Paul Schindler of Lexington, for the job of equipment superintendent; Russell Moore of Crestline, R. D. 2, as guard rail superintendent; Gail Hammett of Franklin township, as claims examiner, and Clair Buchanan, Mansfield, as superintendent of safety.

For the state highway garage in Richland county, Harry Parker, Mansfield, was endorsed for the job of timekeeper-clerk, and Grover Dickson, Mansfield, as store room clerk.

Alma Case, Mansfield, was endorsed for a position as inspector for the state board of cosmetology while Emzil P. Wilson was endorsed for liquor store clerk, Henry Williams for night watchman at the highway garage, and William C. Mopp for a position with the enforcement division of the state liquor department. All are Mansfielders.

Endorsed as automobile registrars in their districts were Lila Miller of Lucas, Clarence Reeder of Butler, and Glenn West of Plymouth.

Spy Hunters Give Report

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The House un-American Activities committee of the 80th Congress charged today that "espionage and treasonable activity" is the sole purpose of the communist party in the United States.

The charge was contained in a belated final report which reviewed the activities of the committee during the past Congress and recommended that the communist party be outlawed.

The report charged that the outward political activity and propaganda of the party and its front organizations and "controlled unions" merely serve to:

1. Enlist new recruits for the primary, underground, espionage apparatus.
2. Lend an idealistic camouflage to "this sinister, conspiratorial apparatus."
3. Act as a "protective defense mechanism."
4. Provide it with funds and other resources.

Wheat Meeting In High Gear

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Forty-eight nations get down to brass tacks today in writing a new world wheat agreement amidst the general feeling that this time they will "bring it off."

Delegates sped through the brief opening session in cut-and-dried fashion, naming Agriculture Secretary Charles Brannan permanent chairman of the conference by acclamation and setting up the necessary committees without a dissenting voice.

Today the conferees begin work on the details, with world wheat prices and how to control them shaping up as an explosive issue.

Noted Lawyer Dies

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Funeral services for George W. Tooill, 84, former member of the Ohio State Journal staff and well known teacher and attorney, who died yesterday, will be held Friday in Columbus.

Postman Will Trade Blood For 3 Rooms

NEW YORK — (AP) — Irving Scheer, 35-year-old Brooklyn postman, has offered to donate four pints of blood to anybody finding a three-room apartment for him.

He told the Red Cross yesterday that he, his wife and two children have been living in one room for two-and-a-half years.

"Maybe you have someone who needs blood just as badly as I need a place to live," he said.

2nd Crash Victim Dies

Injuries Fatal To Mrs. Huffman

Mrs. Lulu H. Huffman, 75, of Oxford, died last night in General hospital of multiple injuries suffered Dec. 31 in a two-car crash on Lexington avenue near the South Boulevards market.

Mrs. Huffman is the second victim of the collision. Her brother-in-law, Corliss S. Crow, 64, of Columbus, died in General hospital shortly after the accident. Mrs. Huffman, Richland county's second traffic victim of 1949, was a passenger in the Crow car.

A year ago today, the county marked up its second traffic victim of 1948.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Anna M. Crow, injured in the Dec. 31 accident, and a brother, Charles Henry, both of Columbus.

Mrs. Huffman was a past worthy matron of the Order of Eastern Star of Oxford and a member of the Memorial Presbyterian church there. She was well known in Oxford for her 25 years of teaching in the public schools.

Funeral services will be held at 7:30 p. m. Friday at the in Oxford. Eastern Star services will immediately precede the rites, conducted by Rev. Robert Thomas. Graveside services at 11 a. m. Saturday in the Greenlawn cemetery, Columbus, will be conducted by Rev. Harry Ford.

Friends may call tonight at the Wolford funeral home. The body will be moved to Oxford tomorrow.

Home Canvass Planned to Tag Tagless Dogs

Richland county commissioners have instructed Dog Warden Charles Hunt to make a house to house check in the county because too many dogs are running without tags.

At the same time, commissioners said the drive to have owners obtain tags would reduce the number of sheep claims, which have been on the increase.

The county has sold 6,000 tags. Commissioners say the total should be nearer 14.000, since the county population is 85,000 and statistics indicate that there is usually about one dog for every six persons.

Commissioners said the law provides a fine of $10 to $25 for not having a tag on dog three months or older, or for interfering with the dog warden in the performance of his duties.

KILLED IN CRASH

CINCINNATI —(UP)— Charles McQueen jr., 17, of Cincinnati, was killed early today when the automobile he was driving failed to make a curve in suburban Price Hill.

2 Typhoid Cases Lead To Probe

Loudonville Water Supply Investigated

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The state health director and two specialists began a typhoid inspection tour of Loudonville today after two cases of the disease were reported.

Loudonville recently had an epidemic of enteritis, an intestinal disease, because the town's water chlorination system broke down. More than 1,000 cases of the disease were reported at the height of the epidemic.

Dr. John D. Porterfield, Ohio health director, said he did not know if the two typhoid cases had any connection with the recent chlorination breakdown. Original laboratory examination showed water in Loudonville to contain sewage during the breakdown.

He said daily checks showed enough chlorination now to protect against most water contamination.

"There was no implication that the local authorities were delaying construction of a water treatment plant since the passage of a bond issue last November," Porterfield said, "but the preparation of blue prints and construction does take time."

"It is necessary that constant protection be provided until the water treatment plant is completed and in operation."

Loudonville's two typhoid cases, the state health director said, may be sporadic, the kind that shows up every once in a while.

"More cases would have been expected by now," he said, "if it had been due to contaminated water. However, a careful investigation will be made."

Loudonville's chlorination equipment broke down Jan. 5. The breakdown was not reported to the State Department of Health until Jan. 11. By that time, several hundred cases of enteritis had broken out.

60-Day Ban On Permits

COLUMBUS — (INS) — A 60-day freeze on new liquor permits was placed in effect today by the state liquor board.

Walter Mitchell, board chairman, sent the emergency order over to the office of Secretary of State Charles F. Sweeney for filing to make it immediately effective.

The board acted under terms of an emergency executive decree by Governor Lausche, who said, however, that it was his understanding that the freeze would not affect transfers or renewals.

TRADES MOTHERHOOD FOR FREEDOM — A 21-year-old brunet, Mrs. Georgette Brucks, stocky mother of three children who traded her fertility and her children for freedom from prison, talks over her harsh bargain in Los Angeles jail with Donald Redman, 23, father of the seven-month-old son she admits beating with her fists because she "couldn't stop his crying." The young woman agreed to put her children—including an unborn baby—up for adoption and submit to a sterilization operation in exchange for being placed on parole after pleading guilty to killing the son. The judge approved the deal.

Floods, Sleet, Snow Buffet Entire U. S.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman today asked Congress for a new $1,000,000 emergency disaster appropriation. He announced the request at a news conference. One reason for asking it, he said, is the need for federal money to match state funds to relieve distress in the western blizzard area.

★ ★ ★

(By United Press)

Sleet and drizzle coated the area from southern Texas to Iowa with a slippery glaze today and flood-swollen streams in the midwest left 500 homeless in Illinois and Indiana.

Griffin, Ind.. officials reported food supplies dwindling because the rampaging Wabash river has covered the village's only highway for the past two weeks

In other sections of the nation, heavy snows fell in upper New York state and New England while low temperatures plagued the far west.

A makeshift icebreaker smashed 18 miles up the frozen Muchalat inlet on the west coast of Vancouver island in British Columbia to rescue seven miners marooned more than a month at an isolated camp. A tugboat with four-foot logs lashed to the bow crunched through the ice on the mercy mission.

Light rainfall was reported in southern Illinois and Indiana where refugees were quartered in railway boxcars and garages as the Wabash and White rivers spilled over their banks.

Meanwhile the government poured more money, men, machines and planes into the fight to save as many as possible of the 2,000,000 head of livestock starving on snow-covered western ranges.

Federal Works Administrator Philip B. Fleming granted $35,000 each to Nevada, Utah, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming for the battle, dividing equally $175,000 of the $200,000 made available from President Truman's emergency relief funds. The Senate is scheduled to act on a bill today appropriating $750,000 more.

Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall ordered 60 angledozers shipped into snowbound Nebraska areas from Granite City, Ill. The machines are 31,000-pound monsters which can plow through the heaviest snow while towing trucks behind them.

Lt. Gen. Steven J. Chamberlin, Fifth Army commander, said 30 of the machines already were on flat cars and the remainder would be loaded today. The Navy department also ordered machines into the snow areas.

Rain, Drizzle, Fog!

City's Weary of Dreary Weather

Rain, rain, rain! Murky skies have dripped sodden dampness on Mansfield every day this week. And much of the time when it wasn't actually drizzling, moisture coated the landscape in the form of cold, soupy fog.

Everybody's sick of it, and not keeping still about it either!

So what does the weatherman offer for tonight and tomorrow? He says RAIN, tonight. He says RAIN, Friday. Then he adds such inconsequentials as that it will be milder tonight and colder tomorrow with possibly some snow flurries in the offing. Where have you heard that before! But this time we may have sleet, too.

Other parts of the state were having the same weather, of course, and in lower areas the water was piling up.

The state highway department reported that at least 13 state routes were closed by high water in Wyandot, Guernsey, Scioto, Pike, Athens, Galia, Meigs, Noble and Tuscarawas counties.

A general flood warning was issued in Cincinnati shortly after noon today. The Ohio river is expected to pass flood stage tomorrow night.

The Cincinnati weather bureau said the river will rise at a rapid rate for the next two or three days due to heavy rains indicated

The Ohio, which has inundated hundreds of acres of low-lying land along its banks from East Liverpool to Cincinnati, stood at 46.3 feet at Cincinnati at 7 a. m. today and was rising about a tenth of a foot an hour. Flood stage at the Queen City is 52 feet.

Clay Orders Smuggling Crackdown

Racket Hurting German Economy

FRANKFURT — (INS) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay prepared today to impose drastic restrictions on the movement of American and allied cars from Germany in a crackdown on a 222 million dollar a year smuggling racket.

The racket, which Clay has admitted is damaging the economy of the U.S. zone, is said by U.S. army criminal investigation agents to involve more than 70 Americans, including military government officers and highly-paid civilians working for the army.

The agents told International News Service that one American ring had uncovered caches of nazi-looted gold and silver by-passed by the American armies during the last days of the war.

These caches, consisting of bags of precious metals still stamped with the seal of the degussa firm—the nazi gold-silver combine which supervised looting of occupied countries—have been smuggled to Italy, France, and Switzerland at fabulous profits.

Fantastic methods of smuggling have been uncovered by the army investigators. They have found that German garages equipped U.S. cars with gold and silver radiator grilles, platinum fenders, gold and silver ornaments, and special concealed compartments.

These cars were then driven across western European borders by members of the ring, ostensibly on vacation tours.

GOP Would Oust Scott

OMAHA, Nez. —(UP)—A powerful faction within the Republican national committee moved today at open meeting to oust Chairman Hugh D. Scott jr., on charges that he was disrupting the party organization by playing politics for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Speaking directly to Scott but addressing the committee as a whole, Jacob France of Maryland offered the resolution which was seconded by Harrison E. Spangler of Iowa.

The resolution stated that it was "in the best interests of the party that the chairmanship be declared vacant." There was a sharp scattering of applause as France sat down.

Addressing Scott, he said: "Do you want unrest or harmony? Are you staying there in the chairmanship wth its Dewey executive committee? Are you staying there to help Tom Dewey run for President again in 1952?"

Jury Says Ban Permanent

IRONTON —(AP)— The Lawrence county grand jury—instructed by Common Pleas Judge James Collier to investigate gambling—reported yesterday that gambling laws are being enforced in the county.

The judge had asked the jurors to determine if cessation of gambling was temporary.

The jury recommended, however, that the court recall the panel if future violations develop.

All gambling was closed down two weeks ago on orders of the county's new sheriff, P. A. Burke, who said the gambling ban would be permanent.

Axis Sal's Dad Died In City

The father of Mildred E. Gillars, "Axis Sally," on trial in Washington for treason, practiced dentistry in Mansfield for a short time and died here in 1927, it was learned today.

Dr. R. B. Gillars came to Mansfield in January, 1927, and opened a dental office in the old Caldwell and Bloor building at Park avenue west and Main streets.

As far as could be learned, his family maintained their residence in Pennsylvania, while the eldest daughter, Mrs. Edna Mae Herrick of Ashtabula, lived in Piqua, O.

Three months after arriving in Mansfield Dr. Gillars was stricken with an attack of appendicitis and died three days after an emergency operation in General hospital. He was 50 years old at the time of his death, April 4, 1927.

BURIED IN EAST

The body was taken to the former home in Pennsylvania for burial.

Miss Gillars, who acquired the name "Axis Sally" because of her broadcasts over the Nazi short-wave radio during the war, was frequently heard in this country and her voice was familiar to most service men overseas.

The 48-year-old woman accompanied her mother on a trip to Europe seven years after her father's death. Prior to the vacation trip she had been a student at Western Reserve university in Cleveaind and Ohio Wesleyan university in Delaware. A desire to advance her musical career led her to stay abroad, it was learned.

In Berlin she inquired about the possibility of studying voice and was offered an English teaching post in University of Languages. She accepted and it marked the beginning of her long stay in Germany.

While several Mansfield professional men remember "Axis Sally's" father during his short residence in Mansfield, none recalled either his wife or daughters visiting him here.

Jury Hears Recordings

Witness Describes Tape Distortion

WASHINGTON — (INS) — A federal court jury hears firsthand today the sultry words "Axis Sally" beamed to U. S. troops and their folks at home via the wartime nazi radio.

Prosecutor John M. Kelley jr., said the disc session would begin after the jury hears a brief tale of postwar espionage from a former U. S. counter-intelligence agent in Germany, Capt. Hans P. Winzen, now of Detroit.

It was Miss Gillars' habit, according to the testimony of Germans who worked with her, to visit prisoner of war camps and induce the men there to make tape recordings for use on "Sally" programs.

One German witness, radio engineer Paul Noback, told the jury how prisoners' messages could be distorted by "splicing" the magnetic tape upon which they were recorded.

He said his technicians were so skilled they could take a recording of a man counting from one to ten and make two tapes. with the man counting even numbers on one and odd numbers on the other. He also said they could even take letters from words—"never" to "ever", for instance.

Cites Global 'Fair Deal'

WASHINGTON —(INS)— President Truman announced today he has set up a cabinet committee to aid in launching his "bold new program" for world "peace, plenty and freedom."

The chief executive told a news conference that he has had under consideration for more than two years the "global fair deal" plan enunciated in his inaugural address.

The President declared the idea originated with his "Truman doctrine," laid down two years ago to bolster Greece and Turkey against the menage of aggressive communism.

MARINES TO REMAIN

SHANGHAI —(UP)— An "adequate number" of marines and American naval units will be kept in China to protect United States citizens from uncontrolled violence, Vice Admiral Oscar C. Badger said today.

20,000 Families Affected

Move Swings Into Akron

(Compiled From Wire Services)

More than 20,000 families faced possible eviction from their homes today as landlords in at least eight large cities threatened to rebel against tightening of federal rent controls.

Property owners in Kansas City, Milwaukee, Detroit, Denver, Minneapolis, Grand Rapids, and Oklahoma City followed the lead of Tulsa landlords and threatened to send eviction notices to occupants of all rental units now under government rent control.

Action also was expected to be taken by landlords' groups in Chicago, St. Louis, Madison, Wis., Lincoln, Neb., Philadelphia, and Carthage, Mo.

The action was started Tuesday by the Tulsa Property Owners association, which sent eviction notices to more than 1,000 families.

However, top officers of the American Property Owners association, the group reportedly behind the move, said they were not sponsoring an organized eviction drive.

In Akron, about 1,500 families face possible eviction if a group of Akron landlords decide to go out of the rental business in protest against two rent control bills now before Congress.

The landlords, members of the Rental and Homeowners League, may be called into a special session to consider the program adopted in Tulsa. C. B. Cleverdon, president of the Akron Rental league said yesterday.

"It is virtually impossible to exist as a landlord now," he said. "With further controls it would be impossible."

SEES COURTS ACTING

The rebellion of landlords "will be stopped by the courts," Texas Congressman Wright Patman told Tulsa and Dallas property owners by telephone early today.

He was called in a long-distance conference with two unidentified Dallas renters and the Rev. Wallace J. Murphy, a leader of the Tulsa revolt.

Murphy, executive secretary of the Tulsa Property Owners association, said today that there was "no reason" to connect his religious activities with his role as "a landlord fighting rent controls.

"There's no reason for my opponents to use my cloth as a wiping ground," he said.

Murphy, who founded the Amazing Grace Rescue Mission here, is an ordained missionary Baptist minister.

"I travel around the country for both the church and the American Property Owners association," he said. "But both jobs are non-paying, and I've lived on borrowed money for the last five years I'm broke and $22,000 in debt in spite of owning several pieces of property here."

Truman Raps Action

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman said today he does not believe landlords will be able to get away with evicting tenants as a protest against rent control.

That attitude by some landlords is a rather poor approach to the problem, the President said at a news conference.

Mr. Truman's response made clear he was informed on the movement.

Honeymooners In Jail Cell

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A honeymooning couple from Akron, were in jail here today, pending federal action on a taxi driver's complaint that they forced him at gunpoint to drive them here from Biloxi, Miss.

The couple were identified by assistant City Detective John Jackson as John J. Wolfe, 24, an automobile salesman, and Florence Johanne Wolfe, formerly of Akron. They said they were honeymooning in the south and hired a taxicab to bring them from Biloxi to New Orleans.

The driver, M. G. Breland, of Biloxi, told police he was forced to make the drive at the point of a gun.

3-Car Crash Prompts Bucyrus Damage Suit

BUCYRUS—The Hartford Fire Insurance company has filed a $350 action for damages in Common Pleas court here against James L. Hammons, Galion, a partnership of C. K. Irey and Son, and C. K. and W. C. Irey, both living near Caledonia.

The action is an outgrowth of a three-vehicle collision on Nov. 3, 1947 on Route 30-S, four miles east of Galion. The company alleges that an auto, owned by Armando L. Tuscan, Galion, and insured by the plaintiff, was damaged as a result of a collision between a truck driven by W. C. Irey and an automobile driven by Hammons.

According to the petition, Hammons' auto and the Irey truck sideswiped after which the Hammons car collided with the Tuscan auto.

Driver Fined $15

MILLERSBURG — Paul Cash of Strawsburg, R. D. 2, paid a fine of $15 and costs set by Justice E. Marcus Cox before whom he pleaded guilty to reckless operation. He was arrested by the sheriff's department after he lost control of his car near Berlin Monday night.

Wins Crash Damage Suit

Chalmers J. Lehman, Shiloh, R. D. 2, was awarded a judgment of $375 for car damages from Arthur Moore Mullins, of North Fairfield in common pleas court, a journal entry showed today.

Lehman, in his petition claimed the sum for damages resulting when his car was struck and wrecked while parked on State Route 61, near Shelby, by a car driven by Mullins.

A suit for $1,222 brought by the Chase Candy company, of St. Louis, against Paul Campbell, 167 Gibson avenue, and Ralph Hoover, Loudonville, doing business as Paul Campbell and company, has been settled and the case dismissed at the defendants' costs, another entry showed.

The Chase company claimed the sum was due for merchandise.

Slipping Sheep Now Wear Socks

PRINCETON, Mo. — (AP) — Want to know how to keep sheep from slipping in icy weather?

Put socks on them.

Farmer Bill Cox found some of his sheep stranded in a ditch. He put men's work socks on them, permitting them to climb up the icy slope.

Dairy Co-op to Pick Directors

The North Central Ohio Cooperative Dairy Sales association will hold its annual meeting next Tuesday at 11 a. m. at the First Methodist church.

Two directors will be elected to fill the expired terms of A. L. Lockheart, of Lexington, and Howard Snow, of Fredericktown.

In the afternoon the association will hear an address by Marshall Wells, farm editor of radio station WJR Detroit.

Plan Hoe Down

A second Hoe Down will be held by members of the Mansfield Exchange Club and their wives Friday at 8 p.m. at the Mohican Sailing club. The first dance was held in December. As before, Esley Cleckner will furnish the music and give out with the "Do Se Do"s and "Allemande Left"s.

Ohio Loses 3%

COLUMBUS —(AP)— "Ohio is not holding enough of the teachers it trains," State Education Director Clyde Hissong said yesterday. He cited a report which showed Ohio employs about five per cent of the teachers in the United States and trains about 8 per cent of the total.

SIRUP PRICE BOOSTED

CHARDON —(AP)— Maple sirup may sell at $6 or $7 a gallon at the 20th annual Geauga County Maple Festival, April 1, 2 and 3 in Chardon, said Wayne Johnson, group secretary. "It will be just as high as the traffic will bear, production costs being what they are," he said.

Browns, Tribe Roll For Dimes

CLEVELAND — (INS) — The Cleveland Indians tangle with the Cleveland Browns tomorrow night in Cleveland to determine which is the greater champion —in bowling that is.

There will be no admission charge but pictures of the two clubs will be sold with receipts going to the March of Dimes.

The line-up for the Indians includes Bob Feller, Hank Edwards, Mel Harder, Joe Vosmik, Steve O'Neill, Marsh Samuel and Spud Goldstein. Ed Klieman, former tribe pitcher, also will bowl with his former mates.

Providing the competition will be Edgar Jones, Otto Graham, Lou Rymkus, Lou Saban, Chet Adams and end coach Dick Gallagher.

Musial Is Named Top '48 Athlete

HARRISBURG, Pa., — — Stan Musial, the St. Louis Cardinals slugger, has another award to add to the many already in his trophy case.

The Donora, Pa., native, voted the most valuable player in the National league last season, was presented with a plaque last night as Pennsylvania's outstanding athlete of 1948.

The presentation was made by Gov. James H. Duff at the annual dinner of the Harrisburg sportswriters and sportscasters.

Tony Lupien Goes To Detroit Club

CHICAGO — (AP) — The Chicago White Sox announced today they had released Tony Lupien, 32-year-old first baseman who was central figure in a waiver dispute, to the Detroit Tigers.

Lupien goes to Detroit for the vaicer price of $10,000.

The Sox recently asked waivers on Lupien, but Detroit claimed him.

Paper Says Sid To Coach Boston

NEW YORK — (AP) — The New York star says Sid Luckman, veteran quarterback of the Chicago bears, will coach the transplanted Boston entry in the national football league next fall.

In a copyright story, the paper reported the 34-year-old Luckman is scheduled to sign within the next two weeks to replace Maurice J. (Clipper) Smith, who quit the Boston job.

Mal Whitfield Off State Indoor Squad

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Mal Whitfield, Ohio State university's 800-meter olympic champion, will not run in any more indoor track meets this season, trackcoach Larry Snyder said today.

In the last two individual meets he ran in the east, Whitfield ran last.

Eight Top Scores

HAVANA, CUBA. — (AP) — Chauncey Huber of Tiffin, O., was one of eight trapshoot stars who had perfect scores in yesterday's opening live pigeon shoot of the Havana International Trapshooting tournament. The eight got all 20 birds in one or two shots from about 75 feet.

Rhapsody In Blue

Describes the impression you will get when you step into the living room of this lovely home. Above the fireplace is a ceiling-high mirror and flanking the fireplace and mirror are open book shelves and cupboards—all painted azure blue. This color motif is carried out in the hearth tile, the drapery cornices, and in the background of the figured wall paper. In contrast, the heavy wall-to-wall carpeting is wine colored, full-width arch ways open into the sun room and dining room, giving width and depth to your entertainment space. Large picture window in sun room brings in the winter sunshine and night and gives an ever-changing view of an avenue of elms and maples. The newly remodeled kitchen has double sink, white-enameled built-in cupboards and cabinets, breakfast nook, and is wired for electric range. Hardwood floors up and down. Second floor has 3 good-sized corner bedrooms and newly tiled bath with shower above built-in tub. Thermostat controlled coal furnace. 2 car detached garage. This frame home is located off W. 4th St. near Senior High. Priced at only $14,000.

100 Years Old

A sandstone block 7 room farm home. Was built over a century ago, and is as solid and strong as the day it was built. The walls are 1½ ft. thick. Floors are wide oak and can be sanded. The trim and doors are walnut, as are the 12x12 beams. The kitchen has a huge old fashioned fireplace that was built for the purpose of heating and cooking. Full deep basement with space for furnace, laundry, storage, etc. Three big bedrooms on second floor with space for bathroom. Besides this stone home and 98 acres of good land there is a seven room frame tenant home in good condition, an 8 year old 42x75 bank barn, corn crib, implement shed and chicken house. The barn is equipped to house and store feed for all the saddle horses and cattle you care to raise. This farm is located on Route 603, north of Mifflin next to conservancy land. Adjacent land can be rented or farmed on the shares. Good fishing and hunting close at hand. We offer you a good home to live in, a frame home for rental, an income from good farm land unbounded recreational facilities. All for $15,500.

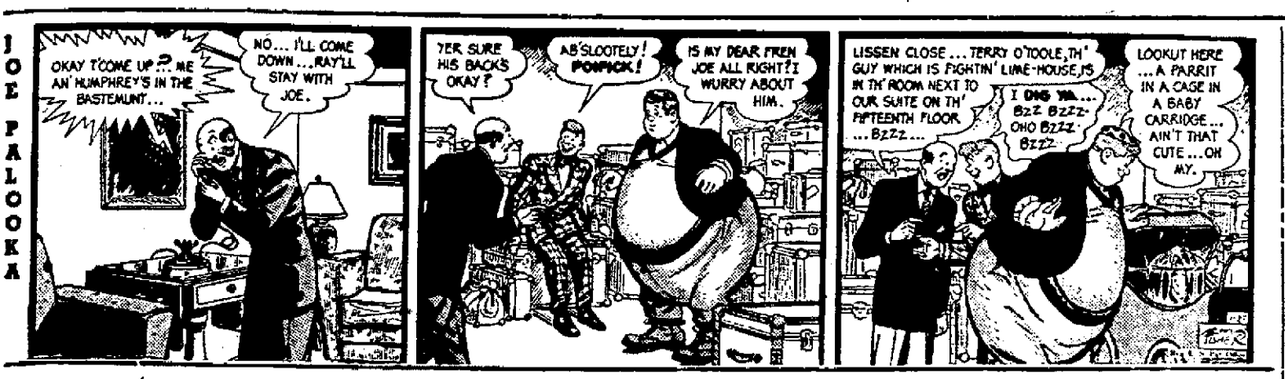
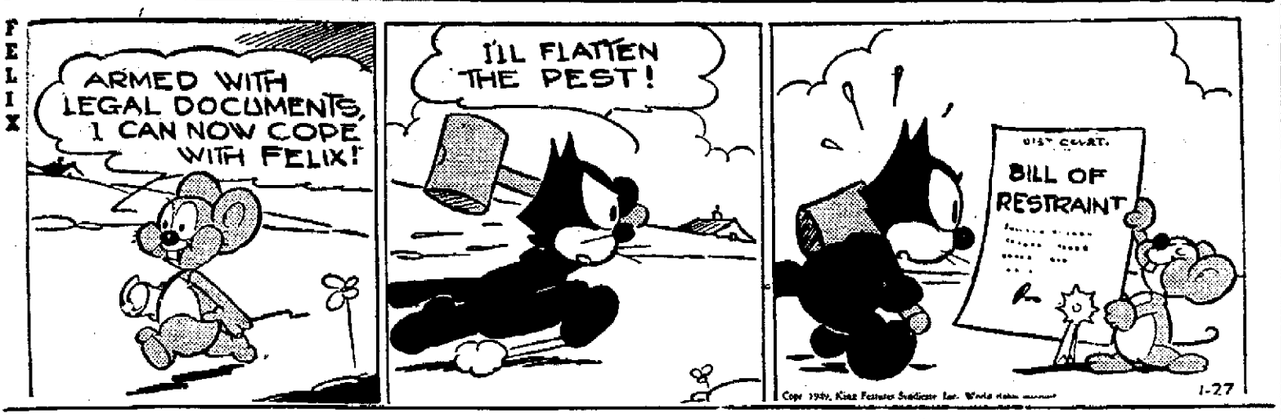
JOE PALOOKA

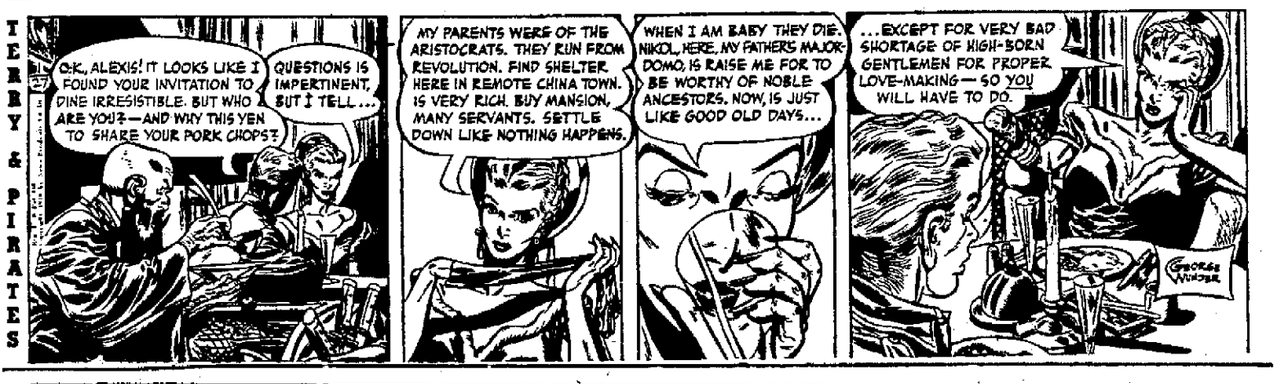


OKAY T'COME UP? ME AN' HUMPHREY'S IN THE BASTEMUNT...
NO... I'LL COME DOWN... RAY'LL STAY WITH JOE.
YER SURE HIS BACK'S OKAY?
AB'SLOOTELY! POSPICK!
IS MY DEAR FREN JOE ALL RIGHT? I WURRY ABOUT HIM.
LISSEN CLOSE... TERRY O'TOOLE, TH' GUY WHICH IS FIGHTIN' LIME-HOUSE JIS IN TH' ROOM NEXT TO OUR SUITE ON TH' FIFTEENTH FLOOR ...BZZZ...
I DIG YA... BZZ BZZZ- OHO BZZZ- BZZZ
LOOKUT HERE ...A PARRIT IN A CASE IN A BABY CARRIDGE... AIN'T THAT CUTE... OH MY.

FELIX



TERRY & PIRATES



O.K. ALEXIS! IT LOOKS LIKE I FOUND YOUR INVITATION TO DINE IRRESISTIBLE. BUT WHO ARE YOU?—AND WHY THIS YEN TO SHARE YOUR PORK CHOPS?
QUESTIONS IS IMPERTINENT, BUT I TELL...
MY PARENTS WERE OF THE ARISTOCRATS. THEY RUN FROM REVOLUTION. FIND SHELTER HERE IN REMOTE CHINA TOWN. IS VERY RICH. BUY MANSION, MANY SERVANTS. SETTLE DOWN LIKE NOTHING HAPPENS.
WHEN I AM BABY THEY DIE. NIKOL, HERE, MY FATHER'S MAJOR-DOMO, IS RAISE ME FOR TO BE WORTHY OF NOBLE ANCESTORS. NOW, IS JUST LIKE GOOD OLD DAYS...
...EXCEPT FOR VERY BAD SHORTAGE OF HIGH-BORN GENTLEMEN FOR PROPER LOVE-MAKING—SO YOU WILL HAVE TO DO.
GEORGE WUNDER

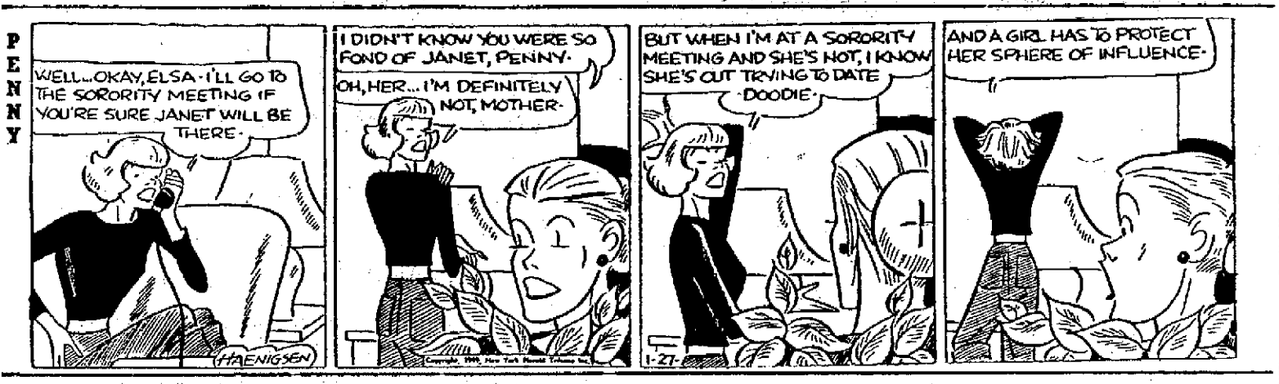
GASOLINE ALLEY

EVERYTHING IS IN BLACK AND WHITE, WILMER, AND THE BOOKS ARE RIGHT UP-TO-DATE.
YOU'VE DONE A GOOD JOB—AT THAT—SKEEX.
I'M GLAD YOU'VE GOT A CHANCE TO LIVE ON THE FARM. SOME REST WILL DO YOU GOOD.
I'LL PUT IN REGULAR HOURS. THERE WILL BE PLENTY TO DO RIGHT HERE.
YOU CAN TAKE IT EASIER—GET DOWN LATER, AND TAKE SATURDAY OFF.
DON'T WORRY. I'M GOING TO BE ON THE JOB.
KING

RIP KIRBY

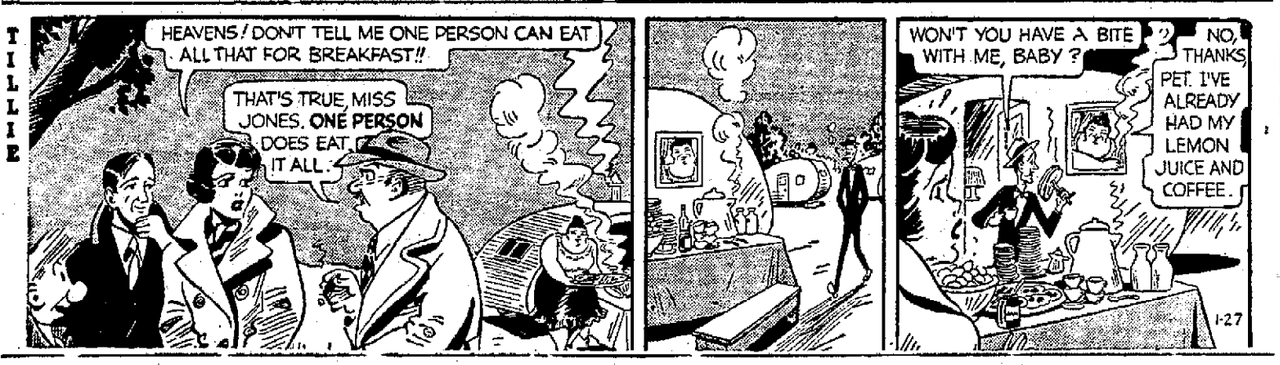
WHY, HONEY! WHAT'S THE MATTER?
IT'S STUART... HE WANTS TO MARRY ME... AND I CAN'T MAKE UP MY MIND!
CAN YOU IMAGINE? CRYING BECAUSE A MILLION BUCKS WANTS TO MARRY HER!
IF IT WAS ME, I'D BE MRS. BEAUMONT BEFORE YOU COULD SAY, "NATCH!"
HONEY.. MR. BEAUMONT CALLING..
I WON'T SPEAK TO HIM!
OKAY, BABY... TELL HER I'LL SEE HER ON THE "SOVEREIGN" TOMORROW!

PENNY



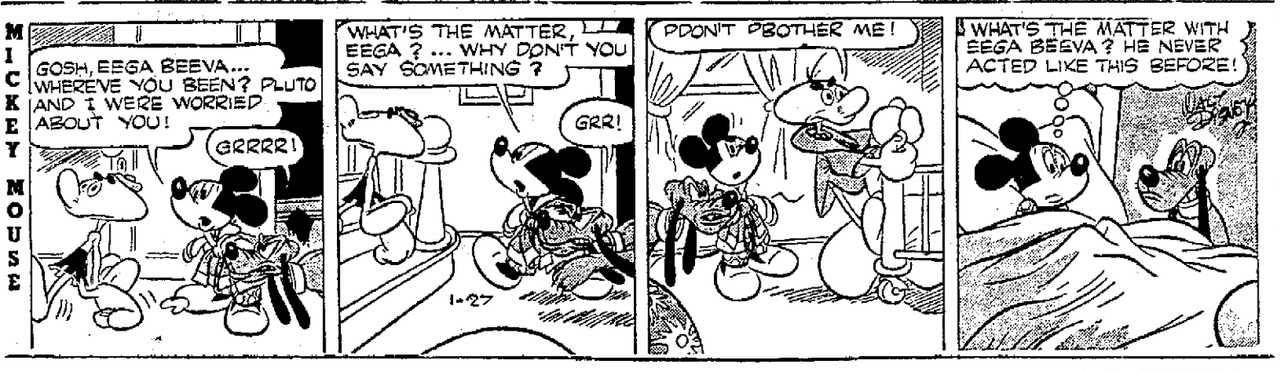
WELL... OKAY, ELSA - I'LL GO TO THE SORORITY MEETING IF YOU'RE SURE JANET WILL BE THERE.
I DIDN'T KNOW YOU WERE SO FOND OF JANET, PENNY.
OH, HER... I'M DEFINITELY NOT, MOTHER.
BUT WHEN I'M AT A SORORITY MEETING AND SHE'S NOT, I KNOW SHE'S OUT TRYING TO DATE DOODIE.
AND A GIRL HAS TO PROTECT HER SPHERE OF INFLUENCE.
HAENIGSEN

TILLIE



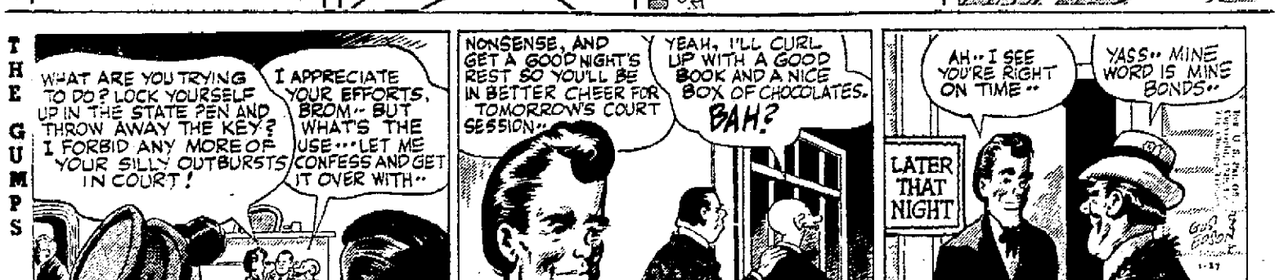
HEAVENS! DON'T TELL ME ONE PERSON CAN EAT ALL THAT FOR BREAKFAST!!
THAT'S TRUE, MISS JONES. ONE PERSON DOES EAT IT ALL.
WON'T YOU HAVE A BITE WITH ME, BABY?
NO, THANKS PET. I'VE ALREADY HAD MY LEMON JUICE AND COFFEE.

MICKEY MOUSE



GOSH, EEGA BEEVA... WHERE'VE YOU BEEN? PLUTO AND I WERE WORRIED ABOUT YOU!
GRRRR!
WHAT'S THE MATTER, EEGA? ... WHY DON'T YOU SAY SOMETHING?
GRR!
PDON'T PBOTHER ME!
WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH EEGA BEEVA? HE NEVER ACTED LIKE THIS BEFORE!

THE GUMPS

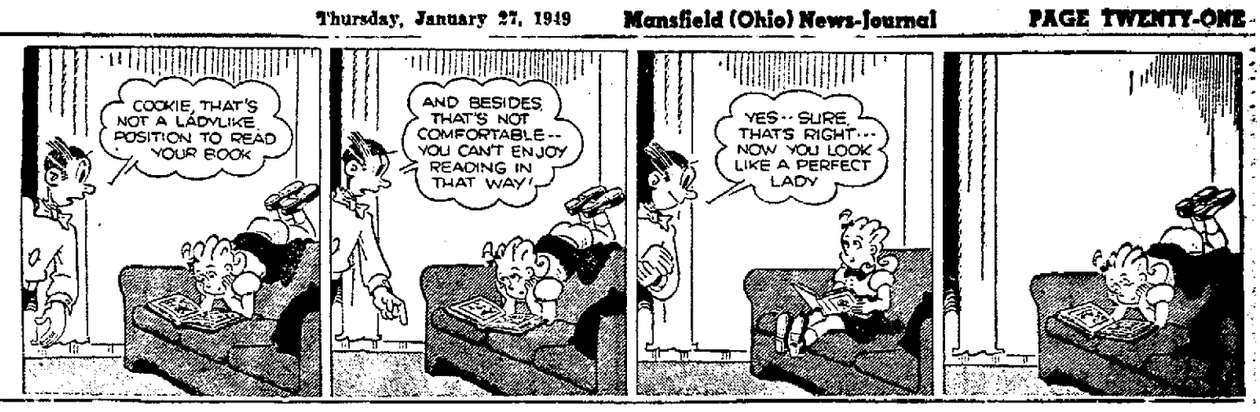


WHAT ARE YOU TRYING TO DO? LOCK YOURSELF UP IN THE STATE PEN AND THROW AWAY THE KEY? I FORBID ANY MORE OF YOUR SILLY OUTBURSTS IN COURT!
I APPRECIATE YOUR EFFORTS, BROM - BUT WHAT'S THE USE... LET ME CONFESS AND GET IT OVER WITH..
NONSENSE, AND GET A GOOD NIGHT'S REST SO YOU'LL BE IN BETTER CHEER FOR TOMORROW'S COURT SESSION..
YEAH, I'LL CURL UP WITH A GOOD BOOK AND A NICE BOX OF CHOCOLATES. BAH!
AH.. I SEE YOU'RE RIGHT ON TIME..
YASS.. MINE WORD IS MINE BONDS..
LATER THAT NIGHT

SUPERMAN

WAS THAT SMART-TALKING ABOUT GIVING KENT A SWELL FUNERAL.
HOW'D I KNOW SHE LIKED HIM SO MUCH? AND WHO'D EXPECT A HARD-BOILED NEWSPAPER DAME TO FAINT?
I'LL MASSACRE YA!
I DOUBT IT, BOULTON!
STAND BACK, I TELL YA— STAND BACK!
DROP THAT GUN!

BLONDIE



COOKIE, THAT'S NOT A LADYLIKE POSITION TO READ YOUR BOOK
AND BESIDES, THAT'S NOT COMFORTABLE-- YOU CAN'T ENJOY READING IN THAT WAY!
YES-- SURE, THAT'S RIGHT... NOW YOU LOOK LIKE A PERFECT LADY

ORPHAN ANNIE

OH, HELLO, SHERIFF— HAVEN'T SEEN YOU FOR A LONG TIME—
JUST SAW YOU COME OUT O' GYPSY BELLE'S SHACK—EVERYTHING O. K.?
1-27-49
'COURSE IT IS— SHE'S A NICE OLD GAL—AND SMART—
HM-M-M—SHE'S SMART, ALL RIGHT—GLAD YOU LIKE HER—GLADDER SHE LIKES YOU—
SHUCKS, SHERIFF—OWLS AND BOTTLED SNAKES AND BAT'S AND CATS— THEY DON'T SCARE ME—
'COURSE NOT—WELL, I'M IN HER CORNER— BUT PLENTY OF PEOPLE AREN'T—OUR "BEST" PEOPLE—
HAROLD GRAY'S

DICK TRACY

OKAY! YOU INSIST ON HAVING YOUR WAY! SO NOW WHAT?
1-27-49
WHAT TIME IS IT?
1:30 A.M.
THERE'S A TAXI STAND AT THE CORNER. LET'S GO.
CHESTER GOULD
NOW, NOW, HONEY, YOU'VE JUST HAD ONE TOO MANY —THAT'S ALL.
TAXI!

LIL ABNER

MOVIES FUM DOGPATCH!! OH, HOW KIND YO' IS!!— SEEIN' MAH HAPPY HOME-TOWN'LL TAKE ME OUT O' TH' MIZZUBLE ATMOSPHERE HERE!!
UMP!!
SNAP!
PPORE SOULS!!— BUT (GOB!) THEY'LL GIT HELP FUM THAR GOOD NEIGHBORS, NEARBY!!
GOOD NEIGHBORS? HELP? HA!!- SHOW HER THE SECOND REEL!!

BRICK BRADFORD

WE ARE VERY SORRY, BUT THE PROPHET IS A LITTLE TIED UP RIGHT NOW — ALONG WITH A FEW OF HIS SUBJECTS!
HE'S MIGHTY HEALTHY, THOUGH — GETS A SUN BATH EVERY DAY AND LOOKS OVER HIS TRIBE!
NOW, LET'S GET ACQUAINTED! THIS IS BIPSIE - THEN JERSEY SWEET, NEEDLE AND MESELF, FACET FENZ!
ENTERTAIN THE HANDY MAN AND MISS SOUTHERN, BIPS, WHILE I TAKE BRADFORD TO SEE THE PROPHET!
1-27

WELL—AT LEAST WE KNOW NOW THAT THE PORTRAIT ISN'T IN WILBUR'S POSSESSION— I WONDER IF—
IF WHAT?
IF WILBUR NEBB ISN'T AS STUPID AS HE LOOKS— DO YOU SUPPOSE HE REALLY HAS WHAT WE'RE LOOKING FOR AND KNOWS ITS VALUE?
HOW COULD HE? NOBODY KNOWS ABOUT THAT PICTURE BUT US AND WHEN LA FARGE PAINTS OVER ANYTHING HE DOES A JOB THAT NO EXPERT COULD DETECT... MUCH LESS A DOPE LIKE WILBUR NEBB!

Bill Would Take Ohio Highway Department 'Out of Politics'

6-Year Term Asked For Director

9-Man Council 'To Give Advice'

(By REED SMITH)

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Reorganization of the state highway department "to take it out of politics" was asked today in a bill drafted for Senate action.

Sens. C. I. Powell (R-Clark) and Ralph A. Winter (R-Medina) said their bill would "take the "political pressure" off the highway director in two ways. They are:

1. Make his term six years, instead of at the governor's pleasure, and

2. Create a nine-man bi-partisan council to advise the director on all except emergency programs.

The director would be required to submit all projects to the council but it could not overrule him. Should he depart from council recommendations, he must file a public statement giving his reasons.

The governor would name council members to six-year terms. They would require Senate confirmation and surety bonds. Pay would be $20 a day and expenses while attending required monthly meetings and special sessions.

Winter, who authorized the pending bill to give Ohio superroads like the Pennsylvania turnpike, cited one section he said was aimed at political favoritism. It read:

"The council shall have the authority to recommend priorities in projects of construction, location and maintenance in order that those projects shall be executed in the order of their importance."

The Senate yesterday received an Ohio Education association-sponsored bill asking $27,500,000 more school aid money for two years.

The increase would boost the two-year total to $202,000,000. Most of the increase would go to raise pay of some 40,000 full-time teachers $225 a year.

The measure was introduced by Sens. Emmett R. Guthrie (D-Coshocton) and Albert L. Daniels (R-Highland). Guthrie is chairman of the Senate Education committee Daniels is a veteran on school bills. It would be effective only two years.

The House passed 123 to 0 an emergency bill to give probate judges, who serve also as juvenile judges, pay raises to $1,500 yearly which the last legislature intended for them.

A legal quirk makes the increase impossible for six years in 56 counties without enactment of the new measure before probate judges take office Feb. 9, it was explained.

Three judges gravely detailed their financial plight to the Senate Judiciary committee, which expects to consider the bill next week.

They were Probate Judges Raymond P Smith of Lima, Joseph E Lasy of Kenton and Lloyd B Bennett of Eaton.

Judge Bennett said he did not seek reelection because of the money muddle

Employes Institute Planned

To Study Jobless Compensation Law

Mansfield employers will have an opportunity for a detailed examination of the Ohio Unemployment Compensation law at a special institute scheduled for next Thursday, Feb. 3.

The institute is to be cosponsored by the Retail Merchants association and the personnel supervisors in local industries. It will begin at 1:30 p. m. in the assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce. An estimated 150 Mansfield employers have arranged to attend or to be represented at the institute.

Other local employers who have questions or problems concerning the state unemployment compensation law may take part in the institute. They should make arrangements with V. H. Lodde, secretary-manager of the Retail Merchants association or C. W. Handley, manager of the Mansfield office of the Unemployment Compensation bureau.

Most of the institute session will be devoted to an open forum discussion of the problems employers have encountered under the Ohio Unemployment Compensation law. Specialists from the store bureau will be on hand to answer questions. Handley said representatives from the state agency's contribution department, compliance department, and benefits department will attend the meeting.

Among the specific items to be discussed are tax payment deadlines, eligibility requirements for benefit claimants, tax rate determination, and the procedure through which benefit payments are charged against employer accounts, Handley said.

Lodde said the institute was part of a state plan to spread information pertaining to unemployment compensation in view of the increasing number of layoffs of workers in industry. Recent layoffs revealed employers know little of the procedures to be followed in compliance with the unemployment compensation law, he said.

office was invited to the White House meeting.

The mediation service, which has been independent under the Taft-Hartley law, would be transferred as a unit back into the labor department. The authority of the secretary of labor to appoint conciliators in labor disputes would be restored.

Other provisions of the administration bill reportedly would follow this pattern:

National emergency strikes — Provide a 60-day cooling-off period during which a presidential fact-finding board would make recommendations for settling such disputes. The government would keep its present authority to obtain court injunctions under certain conditions. These conditions were not disclosed. Unions and companies would be required to give 30-day notices in advance of contract terminations.

Grievance disputes—When such disputes arise under existing contracts, the parties would be required by law to submit to final and binding arbitration.

Freedom Ebbing, Says Rev. Roller

Dependence On Government Blamed

Rev. David Neil Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church told the Optimist club yesterday that the very basis of this country's foundation—Freedom— is slowly, but surely, slipping away from the citizens.

He said, "Today's trend is away from that freedom, that same freedom that has allowed the U.S. to provide much of the livelihood of many countries operating under a radically different type of federal system." He pointed out that this loss of freedom is partially due to the people themselves, in that, "everytime we get into a little trouble we go yelping for the government, and each time we do, we unconsciously lose more of that freedom".

In his address, "What Makes America, America?", Rev. Roller said the present American standard of living rests democratic rights which guarantee a man the chance use what he invents and to keep what he earns from his product.

Atty. John F. Kramer, introduced Rev. Roller to the club, whose appearance was arranged by program chairmen W. S. Penrod and J. G. Gensel.

Earns Title Of World's Best Landlord

SPRINGFIELD — (INS) — The housing shortage must be over for at least one man.

Springfield Landlord John Potter said he offered one of his tenants a larger, six-room house on the following terms just because he liked the guy:

Furniture partially supplied.

Heat, gas and electricity furnished.

Tenant to set the amount of rent.

No rent during a depression.

No rent if the tenant became ill.

Then the renter turned down the offer without a reason.

Said Potter:

"I can't understand it."

Employers Warned Of Tax Deadline

C. W. Handley, manager of the Mansfield office of the Ohio Unemployment Compen sation bureau, today reminded local employers subject to the state un employ ment com pen sation law their deadline for filing last quarter tax reports is midnight Monday.

Payments and reports for the last quarter of 1948 must be postmarked Jan. 31 or earlier to avoid penalties provided by law, he said. Reports and payments should be sent directly to the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation in Columbus.

Employers with three or more workers are subject to the state law.

Convicted Once, Faces New Charge

HOLLYWOOD —(U.P.)— Realtor Robin Ford, 31-year-old co-defendant in the Robert Mitchum marijuana case, was arrested outside a Sunset Strip night club last night on new narcotics charges.

Detectives said they found one stick of marijuana in his hip pocket.

Ford, Actress Lila Leeds and film star Robert Mitchum were convicted Jan. 10 of conspiracy to possess narcotics, and are awaiting probation hearing and sentence. They and dancer Vickie Evans were arrested in a hillside "marijuana den" Sept. 1.

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE FOUR MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, JANUARY 27, 1949

While some fear that inflation will go on and on, it appears that some others fear that it won't.

It was back in 1933 that it was confidently asserted: "A tax on legal beer will quickly lift the entire public debt"—annoying, isn't it, to have somebody dig up such statements.

Salary of Mayor Not Attractive

AS THE SUBJECT of apparent dearth of candidates for the office of mayor of Mansfield is being discussed during these few days prior to the final filing date for declaration of candidacy, chief barrier to interest of persons considered qualified to satisfactorily perform the duties of that position turns out to be the smallness of salary—$5,300 a year.

Information is to the effect that leaders in both political parties have been canvassing the situation to the extent of talking with a number of men regarded as having sufficient education and ability to serve well in the office of mayor, but it was found, in each such instance, that the person approached was making as much or more money in present employment than the mayor's salary.

Heretofore, even at considerably less than the present salary, election to the office of mayor ordinarily offered an increase in income to aspirants for that post, but during this inflationary period it appears that taking the job, even without the effort required in going through a campaign, wouldn't be attractive to anyone already holding a responsible and reasonably remunerative position.

While it is now too late, in advance of next Wednesday's final filing date, to offer more in the way of compensation, this is a matter that should be given thoughtful consideration as a need—unless things change to the extent of making $5,300 again seem an appealing salary.

Plagued By Parking Difficulties

LACK of sufficient off-street parking space in downtown Mansfield has become increasingly apparent during the past decade and has now reached a stage that tends to discourage some out-of-town shoppers who would prefer to trade in this city but who find parking problems too intricate to solve.

Experience extending over a number of years makes it quite apparent that city officials are not sufficiently interested in the subject of a municipal parking lot to take the initiative in providing one—and it is also recognized that finding a suitable location at this late date, at reasonable cost, would not be easy.

This is a matter, however, on which dependence should not be placed on the customarily slow motion of public officials, but one which should be taken in hand by the Chamber of Commerce and mercantile interests as an essential service to local and visiting motorists.

A suggestion that is frequently heard is that Mansfield should have a large downtown garage for indoor parking, such as are common in many cities, and the feasibility of such a project would bear exploring.

Population Drift Is Westward

ACCORDING to J. E. Hobson, executive director of the Stanford Research Institute, New York by 1960 may give place to Los Angeles as the nation's largest city, and San Francisco may also expect very rapid growth.

Recent population drift has been steadily westward, with the Pacific coast states as the goal of the greatest number of migrants. Mr. Hobson pointed out that many large firms have moved their research plants to the West Coast, and that through the resulting diversification of output that region was on the way to becoming economically independent. The East is losing out to the Midwest, also, this expert pointed out, in a widespread move to get away from large centers of population.

Early settlers made their painfully slow journeys westward with the idea of acquiring farm land, or in some cases to find a quick fortune in the gold fields. Today's swift travelers are changing the face of the country with huge industrial plants and sprawling housing projects.

Financial Aid For College Students

THE THEORY that any young person who has the mental ability to master a college education should be given one at government expense, if necessary, is back of a movement sponsored by the National Education Association to provide scholarships for college-age youths.

A bill which would finance 20,000 such scholarships, each amounting to from $500 to $1000 annually, is to come before the eighty-first Congress. Its proponents believe the bill is likely to pass. It has the support of leaders of both parties and approval of the administration.

Such a program will probably give rise to much controversy. Educators fear every contact of politics with education. Those who favor the proposal, however, insist on safeguards against discrimination and point to the fact that administration would be at state level and carefully supervised.

One angle which has not been brought out is the personal one. The young person who finds himself a summer job and thriftily lays by most of his pay toward college expenses has taken a step toward independence. The youth who helps out in the college office or tutors younger students may not have so much time for extra-curricular activities, but is developing self-reliance and power.

Such youngsters might with profit be given enough help to make their paths smoother. A student needs free time enough to get the full benefit of reading and discussion which contribute so much to college experience.

That southern congressman who presented a bag of pecans to President Truman surely wouldn't have said, even in a whisper, "Nuts to you."

Claude Callan reveals: "Some days we are a conservative, but when we ask our banker for a little loan and he refuses, we become a radical."

What Some Other People Are Saying

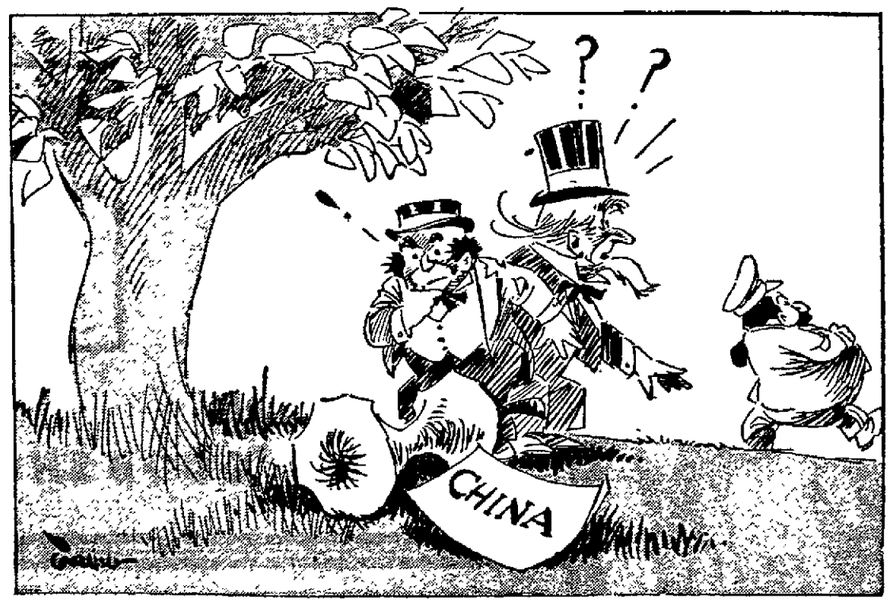
SEN. HENRY CABOT LODGE JR., leader of the GOP liberal bloc: "The Republican party can regain control of U. S. if it does some soul-searching and cleans house."

* * *

ERNEST BEVIN, British foreign secretary: "Our one object is to give happiness and contentment, and a decent standard of life to the masses of Europe."

* * *

D. WORTH CLARK, former U. S. senator from Idaho: "In my opinion, China will reel with the punch and come back to knock communism out of her boundaries."



That Was Some Bite Wasn't It?

Raymond Moley's Analysis

'Academic Freedom' Can Be Misused

ONCE MORE, the issue of academic freedom has been raised. The University of Washington has fired three communist professors and has placed three ex-communists on probation.

This action raises the question of how free these professors really were while they enjoyed a privileged and protected spot in academic life. It would seem that if they were not free, it was the professors themselves and not the university that forged the chains.

The entire proceeding was carried out with deliberation, care and fitting dignity. A legislative committee last summer conducted an investigation which for thoroughness and fairness was in marked contrast with the activities of the Thomas committee in the city of Washington.

Following its report, a faculty committee deliberated seven weeks. And now the board of regents has followed the university president's recommendations. It is hard to see how the Association of University Professors can disagree with a conclusion based on such evidence and such sound reasoning.

President Raymond B. Allen has offered some common sense on the subject which merits wide attention in academic circles. "Academic freedom," he said, "consists of something more than merely an absence of restraints placed upon the teacher by the institution that employs him. It demands as well an absence of restraints placed upon him by his political affiliations, by dogmas that may stand in the way of free search for truth, or by rigid adherence to a party line that sacrifices dignity, honor, and integrity to accomplishment of political ends."

* * *

Accorded Privileges.

A TEACHER in an American university enjoys a privileged status. In any good institution he has, after he has proved himself in his profession, what amounts to permanent tenure.

His pay is not large, but he has high rank in community life. He has enough leisure to gain much prestige and, in many cases, considerable extra compensation from writing and lecturing. He usually is protected by a pension.

In the main he is responsible for his professional product only to the students he teaches and to the good will and respect of his colleagues. This imposes on him a moral obligation to be fair and objective in his teaching, to improve his mind by research and observation, to protect the good name of his institution and to refrain from connections with outside organizations that demand adherence to a set of ideas and doctrines which invalidate his objectivity as a scholar.

This writer has enjoyed academic tenure of that sort for 30 years,, and while his interpretation of his obligation is his own, he feels that it is sound and necessary.

It means that he has refused membership in committees, organizations and movements which have even the slightest connection with the subject matter of his teaching and writing.

The moment a man joins a group which can make decisions and announce policies to which he as a member gives his name, he has surrendered his right of independent thought.

I admit that this is an extreme position, but it has saved unlimited embarrassment.

Affiliation in the major political parties is an exception, because merely to register as a Republican or Democrat does not bind a person to vote or to sponsor the party's candidates or policies.

The Communist party permits no such freedom. In fact, it is not a real party. It is semi-secret conspiracy to destroy the whole basis of freedom.

No professor can claim the privilege of a freedom which he himself has cast away.

Washington Calling

'Freedom' Has Limits

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THE TRIAL of the little group of men who have directed the Communist party, in the United States is being watched throughout the world. In a sense it is a test of the American judicial system as well as a trial of the Communist party.

In recent years we have learned a great deal about the conspiratorial methods of communism in its operation in almost every country on the globe. Novelists, such as Arthur Koestler and others, have brilliantly dissected the marxist mind with its awful, guilty complex.

The Canadian espionage inquiry gave a carefully documented picture, never before available, of techniques.

It showed how disgruntled, disaffected citizens on the one hand and willful idealists on the other hand could be drawn so far into the communist net that they found themselves becoming traitors and spies almost without being aware of it.

The pattern of training in Moscow for revolutionaries and saboteurs has been revealed. Graduates of every nationality pop up in their respective homelands prepared to help overthrow existing governments.

Were the 12 American communists carrying on in this pattern, and can the government prove it? That is the question the jury must decide.

The communists are raising the issue of the right of free speech. The American Civil Liberties Union, which has no taint whatsoever of communism, defends the right of communists to argue their beliefs. With respect to the issue of free speech it seems to me important to make a distinction. Speech that is open and public, even including public speech advocating revolution, is within the framework of traditional American freedom.

* * *

How "Free" Is Speech?

BUT SPEECH that is secret and conspiratorial does not come under the protection of the Constitutional guarantees. Thus, two men planning to rob a bank could scarcely claim freedom of speech for a discussion of their plot.

Attorney General Tom Clark is confident that the government's case against the communist bosses will not cut across the guarantees that are at the heart of American freedom. The indictments were returned only after the most thorough and exhaustive investigation into the acts—as distinguished from the words—of the Communist party in this country.

The department of justice has more at stake than the outcome of the trial. Mr. Clark has asked Congress for a drastic tightening of the present statutes covering espionage.

The case now being presented in New York and its outcome may well determine how far Congress will go in granting further powers.

One of the things Attorney General Clark is asking is that evidence obtained by wire tapping be allowed to be introduced as evidence in the federal courts. There is a great deal of confusion about the matter of wire tapping which Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes called a "dirty business."

Wire tapping is not now forbidden by law. A great deal more of it goes on than the average citizen realizes. While evidence obtained in this way cannot be used in a federal court, the Federal Bureau of Investigation does a limited amount of wire tapping under the personal supervision of the attorney general. On the average about 10 taps are approved by Mr. Clark to be carried on simultaneously.

This will be one of the toughest decisions for Congress to take. A decision should be reached only after extensive hearings have reviewed the whole question of the right of free speech in connection with the threat of the communist conspiracy.

It will be no triumph over communism if in the effort to defeat the conspiracy the methods of our government are degraded to a conspiratorial level.

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Sunday, Jan. 27, 1929.

It was announced that Izaak Walton League would sponsor bird-house building contest for boys and girls under 15 years of age.

District officers of the Volunteers of America visited in city as guests of Capt. William Wellstead, in charge of the work here.

Congregation of Baptist church approved recommendation of pulpit committee to extend call to Rev. Hayes M. Braker to become pastor here.

South Mulberry street viaduct was re-opened to traffic after completion of repairs.

A three-inch snowfall blanketed Mansfield, and city trucks started immediately to clear downtown streets.

Mrs. Lalla Jones Hanford, former Mansfield resident, died at her home in Zanesville.

Young people's organization of First Presbyterian church conducted all services for the day, this being an annual practice.

TODAY IN HISTORY

January 27, 1761, is the day which was regarded by John Adams as having marked the beginning of the American Revolution.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Dictators Flourish In Latin-America

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — While we are worrying about troubles in Greece, Turkey, Iran and the back door of Europe, trouble is increasing in our own front yard—Latin America.

Foreign Minister Carlos Hevia of Cuba stopped in Washington to warn President Truman about these troubles last week, but couldn't get in to see him. Too much inauguration. However, other Latin-American ambassadors have talked to Truman prior to the inauguration and have received mixed reactions.

The President is worried about the increasing growth of Latin-American militarism, but in the case of Venezuela—which the USA recognized last week—he explained that we had to get along with the Venezuelan dictators because we had to get Venezuelan oil for Marshall Plan shipments to Europe.

Also Mr. Truman showed signs of peeve at his old friend, ex-President Gallegos of Venezuela for a statement made when he arrived in exile in Cuba to the effect that the Venezuelan revolt was the United States' fault.

Most Latin diplomats are inclined to agree that hasty U. S. recognition of the Peruvian military dictators did lead to the Venezuelan revolt. Nevertheless, Mr. Truman seemed considerably nettled over Gallego's remark, even though he and President Gallegos traveled out to Bolivar, Mo., last year to unveil a statue of Simon Bolivar, and got to know each other quite well.

At any rate more trouble is brewing in Venezuela, where the military are already at each other's throats. Also the Pan American Union is now debating an embarrassing Chilean demand that the Venezuelan dictators release ex-President Bettencourt from jail.

Protecting Small Business.

HOTLY debated in Senate cloakrooms this week has been the question of whether the Senate small business committee shall continue as an independent body or become a subcommittee under the Senate banking and currency committee.

One thing which the 80th Congress did well—despite all its other faults—was to operate a fearless, forthright small business committee.

This was due in part to the astuteness of its counsel, George Meredith, and in part to the rambunctious belligerency of Senator Wherry of Nebraska, who was loud and vocal in his championship of small business though his votes on the Senate floor sometimes were the other way.

Despite this good job, many Democrats want to merge the small business committee—which has operated in its own right—and make it merely a subcommittee.

Part of this opposition is because the small business committee has stepped on too many big-business toes. Part also is based on the fact that if the small business committee remains independent, it will be dominated by kindly, able Senator Jim Murray of Montana, a highly respected statesman, but who is expected to appoint his son as counsel and operate as a one-man committee.

This criticism may not be justified, but it exists. And it may influence the fate of one of the most important committees in the Senate.

Chinese "Face".

THE EXIT of Chiang Kai-shek recalls a famous photo taken in the White House garden of Chiang's brother-in-law, T. V. Soong, together with President Truman, and the then secretaries of state, war and navy—Edward Stettinius, Henry L. Stimson and James V. Forrestal.

The photo was arranged by ex-braintruster Tom Corcoran, attorney for the Chinese government, through his close friend, Forrestal, in order to strengthen Soong's hand in China and make it appear that he was the bosom friend of the President of the United States and his highest cabinet members.

The photo worked wonders. "Face" (we call it prestige) means everything in China, and Soong came back to Nanking ace-high with everyone.

Also, it strengthened the position of Chiang Kai-shek. He and his family were considered to have the 100 per cent support of the U. S. government.

It was at about this time that General Marshall went to China as special ambassador, and used all his persuasive powers to get Chiang to take other leaders into his government, form a coalition cabinet. But Chiang refused. He had various tokens, such as this photo, to make him think he stood well with Marshall's superior in Washington.

Such are some of the intricacies of Chinese diplomacy.

Note—Tommy the cork is now one of the most active wire-pullers to keep in office Jim Forrestal, the man who helped arrange the miracle-working photo.

Euclid—Not the Avenue

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK—In this vale of tears, it is not often given to frail womanhood to catch up, in the words of the lyric, with the Spaniard who blighted her life.

But I have just caught up with my blighter after almost 30 years, and under circumstances tending to prove that—given enough centuries—time wounds all heels.

My blighter was a Greek, name of Euclid. This unsavory character was a citizen of Athens in the Third century, B. C., who invented a form of scholastic torture known as geometry, which is still going strong.

Very little is known about his life. He spent his time making future generations miserable with such double-talk as:

"If two straight lines contain a given area, in a given angle, and if the difference, or the sum, of them be given, then shall each of them be given."

Until I met up with Euclid, I was a sure thing to be voted most likely to succeed in my class in the Boise (Idaho) high school. After that collision, no one would have bet a plugged nickel on my prospects of proceeding beyond the aluminum counter at the local five-and-dime.

Until my junior year, I was a happy girl preoccupied with taffy pulls, class dances and a yen to read "Three Weeks." One week after encountering Euclid, I was a broken blossom.

How I finally got through high school, without resort to pyromania, how I drove myself through college and eventually got a job in the world despite Euclid is a true life story more thrilling than "John's Other Wife" or "Widder Brown."

But today's installment must stick with Euclid—just as, for two years, I was stuck with him.

* * *

Among the Higher Ups.

THE OTHER evening I found myself a member of a dinner party so intensely intellectual that Rita Hayworth was mentioned only twice.

Suddenly, with that sixth sense Nature gives a woman wronged, I heard a large, imposing gentleman on the other side of the room say:

"And once you get your jet plane beyond the supersonic barrier, the Euclidian formulas no longer hold. Beyond that barrier, they're dead—"

The doctor, on closer acquaintance he proved to be an M. D., was somewhat surprised a split second later to find a tense woman tugging at his sleeve and saying:

"You sure of that?"

Yes, indeed, the Doctor answered. Boiled down and in a nut shell, Euclid—beyond the supersonic barrier—is a bum. It is so apparent, the medico said loftily, that he is now doing research for the U. S. Navy on the problems of non-Euclidian eye-sight, once man is traveling faster than sound.

Beyond that supersonic barrier, things don't look the same to a man as they do at 42nd street and Broadway on a Sunday stroll.

"Once your supersonic plane gets into the hyperbolic elliptic, your old Euclidian values are finished!" the Doctor continued.

All right. So Euclid is as good as ever "on the flat." But my message to young America, struggling with the square of the hypotenuse, is to get out from under. Get yourself into the wild blue hyperbolic elliptic yonder.

Set off in a jet buggy and head for the supersonic barrier. Once you're past that, Euclid is a bum. Up there in that elliptic range, he can't flunk you.

Born thirty years too late, that's me.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

CONGRESS is moving along nicely now . . . We have proposals for $100-a-month pensions, road companies of toe dancers and another billion dollars for Europe.

* * *

There seems to be some feeling in Washington that we have been making money faster than the government can appropriate it and the condition should not be allowed to continue.

* * *

But the idea of a federal ballet is not entirely new . . . None who lived during the 30s can forget the charming "Dance of the Leaf Rakers" which took the place of employment.

* * *

Rep. Javits says this would not be another WPA but there are others who suspect every ward heeler would suddenly discover that he was a toe dancer.

* * *

One argument for the national theater-opera-ballet is that Britain has just voted 4 million dollars for a like purpose . . . But it should be remembered that the British have a rich uncle. Eh Sam?

Farmer's Diary

Cardinals In Winter

By CALVIN A. BYERS

THIS morning was gray and cold. Heavy frost had turned sparse blades of grass on the lawn to a snowy white. Every twig and bramble wore a veil of clinging frost mist that would soon vanish when the sun shone.

My eyes followed lines of frostwork along the boards of the red barn gable, and then I noticed a ball of flaming red on a crotch of honeysuckle shrub.

A ray of sunlight touched it and the brilliance seemed to spread, reflected from each surrounding skein of frost, so that a reddish zone centered in that crotch aand overflowed jubilantly upon the landscape. The bird flew. The male cardinal joined his modest mate on the steep slope beneath the wild cherry tree above the spring.

Here forest leaves had blown in and lodged in layers at the base of a thicket of climbing roses and Japanese barberry. Eagerly the male scratched the leaves away and both had a feast of seeds and torpid insects.

They were there several minutes. Then down they flitted to the spring clear water running over sandstones, with sprigs of cress sprouting below the surface.

The bright daring fellow dived in, spattered water about—dared his mate to follow! Not she. She watched him avidly, but stayed along the edge, not wetting even one dainty foot.

Their language was not vocal, but it was clear they understood each other. The cardinal's cheery whistling note is seldom heard in winter. But on the first warm, springlike day, he shrills his joyous message This same pair entertains us every winter. There is sprightly tilt to his body perched on a snowy branch.

Once a friend who makes photographs of birds showed me a view of two cardinals. It did not seem right, somehow, and I said so, puzzled. Then I asked, "Those were museum birds, weren't they? They were not alive. Somebody had placed them carefully, to be photographed?" "Yes," he said. "But how did you know?"

I could not tell him.

Law Reforms Parents.

Baker, an eastern Orange town, reports favorably on the working of an ordinance which makes parents legally as well as morally responsible for the conduct of their children.

Fed up with the depredations of a gang of 10-15-year-old boys, Baker moved to combat the problem at the place of inception, in the home.

Under the new rule, the parent of a convicted delinquent is prosecuted for permitting the child to become or remain a delinquent, and may be fined or imprisoned.

The showing since the law's adoption is a 90 per cent drop in the offenses of minors.—Detroit News.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

"It's been there ever since I told Earl about the dent I put in the fender of our new car."

Dave Boone Says:

THE United Nations in a bulletin from its social affairs department says America and the world can never come close to catching up in the housing crisis unless they scrap the old cut and dried routines of building and turn swiftly to prefabricated and production-line methods. It sounds sensible. If we stuck to building autos the same way we built them at the beginning we would still be waiting for a streetcar.

* * *

Human beings go on building houses almost the same way their great-great-grandpops did, except with more slow motion and with less regard for durability.

* * *

If a complicated auto, with its thousands of parts, can be turned out in a day or two why should it take months to put up a bungalow? Or maybe a bit longer, if the owner insists on one arched doorway and half a bay-window.

* * *

The auto comes first in so many people's minds today that I wonder Detroit don't turn out a combination one-piece house and sedan so a fellow can get a place to sleep in within a year or two.

Walter Lippmann Says:

Marshall Smoothed Path For Acheson

Acheson, as General Marshall's successor, takes over many intricate and dangerous problems. But he inherits also the benefit of decisions which only Marshall could have made convincing and acceptable to this country in the postwar era. They are the most fundamental of all decisions — in that they have defined the vital interests of the western hemisphere in its relation to the eastern hemisphere.

The first of his great decisions was reached after a year of intensive inquiry in the midst of the Chinese civil war. It was that while this country might be able to influence somewhat, it could not direct and control, the immense human upheaval in Asia, of which the Chinese civil war is only an aspect.

It followed, therefore, that the true American policy was not to become involved deeply and irrevocably as a partisan in a struggle of which no man can foresee the outcome,—and by not becoming involved, to keep open the door between the new nations of Asia and the older nations of the West.

The second of the great decisions will always be associated with Marshall's name. It was that Europe and the Americas are united, not divided as Americans once thought, by the Atlantic ocean and its connections in the North sea and the Mediterranean. Here we are involved by geography, by history, by economic and strategic interest, by our institutions and our culture, and by the religious and moral tradition of which Europe and the Americas are the bearers.

The relations between the Atlantic community and the world beyond it—that is to say the Soviet Union on one hand, and the new nations of Asia on the other—are the central issues of our age.

Our responsibilities, as Marshall defined them, are enormous. But they are not universal, and if, having emerged so recently and so suddenly from our own isolation, we allow ourselves to imagine that we can shape the destiny of the globe, we shall not do what we can and must do because we try to do so many things that it is impossible to do.

MUST CONSOLIDATE

The thing we can and must do is to consolidate the Atlantic community. This will not have been accomplished until the partition of Europe is ended, and the Eastern European countries are allowed to reenter the European commonwealth to which they belong.

Among the things that it is impossible to do is to restore, or even to maintain, the relations between the West and the people of Asia which have existed for the past two hundred years. That epoch, which began with the British conquest of India in the eighteenth century, is in its last decline.

There are many who think that Western power in Asia will be replaced promptly and inevitably by the Soviet power. They may be right. But those who hold this view may be as wrong in their pessimism today as they were not so long ago in their optimistic notion that at the end of the war Asia would, with some change of the outward formalities return to the status quo ante. There is, therefore, some ground for hope that Asia which has become unmanageable by western Europe will prove to be unmanageable by Russia.

After all, when the Roman Empire broke up, it had no immediate successor.

Nuptial Vows to Take Place In St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

JANUARY 29 has been chosen as the date of the marriage of Miss Wanda Elaine Young to Frazier F. Hall. Miss Young is the daughter of Mrs. O. J. Wise, 46 West Prospect street, and Earl Young, 544 Newman street. Mr. Hall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hall, Windsor road.

The nuptials will take place in St. Paul's Lutheran church at 2:30 p. m. with the Rev. John Gensel officiating.

Miss Sally Smith, close friend of the bride-elect, will serve as her attendant. Jack Hall, brother of the bridegroom, will be the best man.

Miss Young attended Andrews School of Girls, Willoughby, O., and is a graduate of Minnick Beauty school. Mr. Hall attended Mansfield Senior high school and served in the U. S. Army three years. He is now employed at A. B. Grafton's.

New Mothers' Club Group Organized

Mrs. Pete Miller was elected president of the new Roseland school Mothers' club Wednesday at their meeting in the school auditorium. Those elected to serve with her are Mrs. Mary Ross, vice president; Mrs. Robert Fletcher, secretary; and Mrs. Wayne McFarland, treasurer.

The committees appointed for the coming year are ways and means, Mrs. George Burns, Mrs. Horace Pittinger, and Mrs. Frank Clement program, Mrs. Harold Reynolds, Mrs. Henry Lane, Mrs. Lester Wert; folwers, Mrs. Archie Maye and publicity, Mrs. L. W. Barley.

Refreshments were served by a committee of four, Mrs. Burns, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Pittinger and Mrs. Everett Putnam. The members were introduced to the principal and teachers.

They voted to meet the last Wednesday of each month at the school.

DeMolay Mothers Hear Mr. Pfeifer

The regular meeting of DeMolay Mothers club was an event of Wednesday evening in the YMCA clubrooms, with Carl Pfeifer of the DeMolay Boys group as guest speaker.

The program committee for the February 23 meeting will include Mrs. Dale Patterson, Mrs. Frank May and Mrs. Paul Whip with Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. F. A. McCune and Mrs. Eugene Boling on the social committee.

A buffet luncheon was served at the close of the evening by Mrs. J. G. Cole and Mrs. Charles Kafer.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE
For Friday, January 28

The astral indications for a lively and exciting day are stressed. While the mind may be pitched to high creative purpose, yet it is just as probable that the feelings, emotions and impulses may be also pitched to dangerous grooves, with rash, turbulent and ungoverned conduct, disruptive, resentful and sarcastic. This inciting to arguments, controversy and quarrels could undermine any worthy and constructive opportunities for accomplishment. Also under such adverse and hectic drives, accidents, injuries and mechanical dangers are possible. Maintain calm and composure for real results.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may have a lively and enterprising year in which the feelings, emotions and activities may be keyed to a dangerous and hectic state of affairs, defeating high aims and ambitions by strife, controversy and ill-governed tensions. It may prove dangerous to plans or projects, in which a keen and objective mind might have splendid results. Also physical ills and dangers might be precipitated by unguarded conduct or excitement

Considerate, calm and composed behavior could bring about productive culminations for practical endeavors and sound creative thinking.

A child born on this day may be enterprising, ambitious and have excellent forces and faculties for success in its career. But an inner drive toward strife, impetuosity and sarcasm may produce loss, also dangers to its physical well-being.

How Times Have Changed!

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

It wasn't so long ago that women had to invent headaches to have their foreheads annointed with cologne. If ladies would take up the pastime of fainting again, the whole fashion and cosmetics pictures could change.

Back on toiletries shelves would go smelling salts, headache cologne and floral hearts used for perfuming the breath- reviving a whole new market. Mom might acquire that "natural blush" again by dipping a rose in water and rubbing it on her cheeks. Or perhaps a strawberry would do the trick.

Such was the subterfuge used by young ladies in the Nineties, and even before, who wanted to enhance their beauty without inviting the wrath of the gentlemen of that period.

Cosmetics manufacturers often gave cooperation to the ladies of that era. Memorablia from Richard Hudnut's archives reveal that, as one of the leading cosmeticians of that period, he encouraged their whimsies to the point of highly perfumed headache cologne, lavender smelling salts, wood violet tooth wash and scented tooth powder. A violet sec cologne and Yanky clover toilet water were used only by the most daring.

Miss and Mrs. America are taking their cosmetics straighter all the time, however, and the modern girl takes her choice of colognes and perfumes and colors her ear lobes if she likes. No one asks questions.

It looks as if toiletries are here to stay.

The street cars, trolley coaches and buses of America carried 25 times as many passengers last year as the nation's railroads.

VOICE OF BROADWAY

JOTTINGS IN PENCIL

It finally happened. At Saturday night's performance of "Along Fifth Avenue," a lady wearing a Carmen Miranda-ish hat refused to remove it, and the gentleman in back of her tore it off and threw it into the orchestra pit. The police were summoned at the height of the excitement, and they kept an eye on the irate gent during the rest of the performance. (It was bound to occur!)

David Brian, Joan Crawford's leading man, does his off-screen love scenes with Adrian Booth. They look like a wedding prospect . . . The Lou Mindlings are lullabying a baby girl at Doctors hospital.

Bookmakers are leaving Florida in droves. "There's no loose money around," is the most frequently uttered quotation. . . . Lois Andrews is being showered with gifts. Her admirer is a big fountain pen man.

As a result of her much-publicized romance with Dick Haymes, Nora Eddington Flynn is getting $5,000 a week offers from theaters around the country that want her to make personal appearances—presumably on the theory that the public would flock to see a girl who preferred a crooner to great-lover Flynn.

* * *

Harold Minsky is planning an independent film biography of the famous Minskys and their career in burlesque. Gypsy Rose Lee is being talked about for the leading feminine role.

Lucille Ball has her back strapped up, result of an automobile accident. . . . The Hartmans and Tony Farrell plan to try to keep "All for Love" running a while longer, by putting in new sketches and cutting the dullest spots.

Mel Torme and Buddy Rich ended their long-standing feud in argument about midget racing cars. . . . Bill Eythe and former dancer Hazel Roy are making Le Chamford their rendezvous.

Is it just my ear, or does Stan Kenton's "Artistry In Rhythm" sound a great deal like Ravel's "Daphnis and Chloe" suite?

* * *

Here's How Ulcers Are Born: The production staff for one of the highest Hooper-rated network shows tried for many months to sign Dorothy Lamour for a guest star spot, and at length she agreed to do the program, with the proviso that her latest picture be mentioned in the course of the divertissement. The stipulation was promptly okayed.

But at the last moment, the producers were anguished to discover that Dottie's film was titled "The Lucky Stiff"—and the show's sponsor will not permit use of the word "lucky" under any circumstances. Why? Because the sponsor happens to be a cigaret manufacturer, who feels that mention of That Word immediately calls attention—and free—to a rival's product.

* * *

Unpaid-for Want Ad: The Delmonico Room is looking for a good-looking social registerite to sing and play the piano there nightly. The right girl will get a percentage of the room's receipts.

Goodness! Joe DiMaggio's getting quite a few gray hairs. . . . The current disastrous season in Miami has the Catskill resort owners worried. They plan cutting prices this summer.

Sydney Greenstreet is ecstatic—he's finally been given a sympathetic part in a picture. It's the Spencer Tracy-Jimmy Stewart film, "Operation Malaya" (they'd better change that title, incidentally)—and in it there's even a scene in which Greenstreet gets tortured by the villain, for a switch!

* * *

Frannie Gardner, estranged wife of wealthy Winnie Gardner, is doing the Palm Beach places with Joe Thomas. . . . George White is slated to start his "Scandals" television series in New York in March.

Former movie starlets now comprise almost 25 per cent of the local cover girl set. . . . Since Madeleine Carroll made her great success in "Goodbye, My Fancy," on Broadway, movie theaters are playing her old films as reissues. So far "My Son, My Son" is the most popular revival in Gotham.

You'd be surprised at the name of the big box office star whose husband is having her shadowed by detectives because he suspects her of caring for her leading man in those Technicolor pictures.

The lady getting all the stares at King of the Sea the other night was Mrs. Al Teitelbaum—and the coat that caused the craning (mink, natch) cost $54,000!

* * *

If Diana Lynn hadn't suffered a broken arm, Patricia Morison might not be starring in "Kiss Me, Kate" today. The connection might not be immediately obvious, but it happened that some months ago Diana was wanted for the Army Air Corps show at Madison Square Garden, and the sponsors wired her manager to please fly her to New York, all expenses paid.

She couldn't make it, because of the fracture, but the manager, Wynn Rocamora, happens also to handle Patricia Morison, and he suggested her as a replacement. Pat hadn't been able to come East to audition for "Kiss Me, Kate's" authors and backers, simply because she couldn't afford the trip, so she snatched at the Madison Square Garden opportunity—and sold herself for the show.

Modern Nurseries Can Benefit Both Child and Mother

Small fry are people, too. They react to their surroundings just as sharply as the grownups responsible for those surroundings. Realizing this, modern mothers are insisting that the nursery, where small children spend most of their time, always be cheerful and bright.

The nursery should be more interesting to the child than any other room in the home but it should also be a boon rather than a burden to the housekeeper. Here are some Tile Council of America suggestions for making the nursery more attractive, more practical and easier to manage:

Bunk-style beds close to the wall create more place space. Chests under the window add storage space and keep children away from open windows. Large windows allow maximum light, and reflective surfaces such as clay tile will increase light and make the room seem larger. An accordion folding door in the center of the room will divide the daytime playroom into two separate bedrooms at night.

Grimy little hands, spilt milk and youthful gambols can wreak havoc in a nursery if floor and wall surfaces are not impervious, rugged and easy to clean. Nursery floors and walls of the same easy-to-clean clay tile that goes on bathroom walls and floors will cut cleaning chores and last for the lifetime of the house. Furniture with rounded edges will reduce children's cuts and scrapes.

Adjustable shelves and closet rods will grow up with the child. Mother Goose decorations and other motifs appealing to children can be put in clay tile wainscots or window sills by replacing one plain tile with another decorated to please children. Tile also adds cleanability and durability to bookcases and toy shelves. Shelves finished in clay tile can be cleaned in a jiffy and frequent scrubbing won't mar the waterproof surfaces.

Candidate Rush Seen By Board

Peyton Announces For Councilman

James W. Peyton, 589 South Main street, today announced his candidacy for the nomination for Sixth ward councilman on the Republican ticket.

Since Peyton is only the third candidate to announce a last-minute filing rush is expected at the county board of elections office. The filing deadline for Mansfield offices is next Wednesday.

Meanwhile, the GOP executive committee met last night in an attempt to line up a slate of candidates. The slate, however, is still in the making.

Ralph M. Hardy, committee chairman, said the committee made no endorsements and does not intend to make any before the primaries.

Three names were prominently mentioned for the Republican mayoralty nomination, it was learned They are Mayor Roy W. Vaughn, First Ward Councilman Thomas B Wright, and former mayor William J. Locke.

The name of Philip Wolfe, a former safety-service director, also was mentioned.

There were rumors that Attorney Leslie K. Wagner would seek the Democratic nomination for city solicitor, a job he formerly held.

Harry Colbow, gormer mayor of South Boulevards, has been mentioned as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Second ward councilman.

Bartley Bowers of 56 Park avenue west, said yesterday a petition he took out was for somebody else "I'm not interested in politics in any way, shape or form," Bowers said

Bowers was the operator of the Sky-Hi club near Ashland, which was leveled by fire last summer.

16 Inducted For Service

Five Richland countians and 11 from nearby areas were inducted into the army yesterday at the Mansfield Induction center for the final draft call before a two-months draft holiday during February and March.

Sworn in were Edward Gail Kirk, Ashland, R. D. 1, Herbert E. Hewitt, Shelby; Claude R. Sheffield, 298 East Second street; James W. Dilworth, 154 North Adams street; and Robert E. iegler, 136 Columbia avenue.

At the same time the following men were inducted from surrounding communities.

Theodore R. McCament, Mt. Vernon,; John Madias jr, Mt. Vernon; Franklin L Piatt, Ashland, Sidney J Kibler, Bucyrus; Urban O. Wurm, New Washington; Orville Faine jr, Marion; Robert Haviland, Marion; James S. Crabtree, Marion; Clair E Fields, LaRue; Grover E. Crissinger, Marion; and Edward E. Rubenhagan, Mt Gilead.

The men are being sent to Fort Knox, Ky. for basic training.

Club Bridge Play Resumes Tonight

The University club bridge tourney goes into its third week tonight with Robert Henry and James Wolfston holding the lead. Twenty-eight teams are vying for the prizes offered the winners of the five-week competition

Tonight's play will be the third night of the series which began two weeks ago Two more nights of the tourney are scheduled for Feb. 3 and Feb. 10 On the latter date a buffet supper will be served and prizes will be awarded Sessions are held at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Mansfield Teachers to Hear Ohio Educator at Ashland

A group of Mansfield men will go to Ashland tonight to attend a meeting of civic and educational leaders held under the auspices of the Ohio Education association.

Attending from here will be Dr. William R. Riester, member of the board of education; Raymond Dent, principal of Roseland school; Charles A. Divelbiss, principal of Woodland school, and W. E. Slaubaugh, president of the Woodland Parent-Teacher association.

Hobart Bell, assistant secretary of the Ohio Education association, will speak and show a film, "Ohio Schools in '49," prepared by the association and depicting a tour of Ohio schools and interviews with a number of prominent Ohio educators, parents and community leaders as they discuss the critical problems for which school people must find a solution.

The meeting is scheduled to be held in the auditorium of the Ashland courthouse, and has been planned by John Geiger, superintendent of Mt. Vernon schools and Barbara Taylor, Wooster teacher

Prowler Drops His Handkerchief

A man's handkerchief, believed dropped by a prowler at the residence of Don Barr, 22 Chestnut street, last night, was held for laboratory analysis by the police department's identification bureau today..

Barr reported to police a prowler was outside his home at 8:30 p. m. yesterday. Police, detailed to the home, found the handkerchief under one of the windows.

Truck Rams Transit Bus

A Mansfield Rapid Transit bus was damaged this morning when it was struck from the rear by a tractor-trailer truck at the Park avenue east subway. There were no passengers in the bus.

Walter D. May, 223 Rowland avenue, bus driver, said he was traveling north and had stopped under the subway for a traffic light when the truck struck him The truck was owned by Harrison Roe, of Waverly, O.

The truck driver, Richard L. Mathews, of Rarden, O., said the traffic signal was hidden by the bus, and he did not see the other vehicle until it was too late to come to a stop.

The rear and the right side of the bus were damaged.

Ashland Jury Returns 14 Indictments

ASHLAND — Recommendations for improvements at the Ashland county Children's Home were made by Ashland county grand jurors during their two-day sessions this week. The jurors also returned 16 indictments, two of which were sub rosa Indictments included a second degree manslaughter indictment against Joseph W. Wychunas, Ashland, in the double fatalities Jan. 8 of Paul Sample, Ashland and Mrs. Mabel Hostetler, Mansfield, when Wychunas allegedly caused an accident by violating a state traffic law.

Sample was a passenger in Wychunas' car and Mrs. Hostetler was riding with her husband in another car.

Walter Rachel and Thomas M. Moore were indicted for grand larceny in the theft of $180 worth of Christmas trees from the property of Dr F. R. Burnside, Dec. 20

Harold Lozier and Robert Lozier were indicted on two counts of breaking and entering, in connection with theft of $100 worth of mechanics tools from a storehouse here. Ernest Wingrove and Richard Tucker, were indicted for auto theft. Lester Dewiel was indicted on two charges of rape with consent and intoxication of a 15-year-old girl.

Richard Buzard was indicted on two charges of rape with consent and furnishing intoxicating liquor to a 15-year-old girl John Tyson Roy L Frasier and Wil lis Bilbrey were indicted on charges of grand larceny, specifically theft of $120 worth of lead from the L Walker Fauber Co. John Zamichowski was indicted for theft of an auto valued at $30.

Teaching Pay Boost Urged

LORAIN —(INS)— Lorain teachers had the backing of the city's council of Parent-Teachers associations today in their fight for new pay increases.

The organization went on record yesterday as urging unanimously that the school board work with the teachers in an effort to effect an adequate pay hike.

The council also recommended that the board dispense with closed meetings and confine itself to policy making and advisory work only.

The teachers are seeking a wage increase in their present wage schedule, which ranges from $1,300 to $2,500 and has been in existence since 1921.

Casual Invitation to a Visiting Minister Saves Weekly Newspaper

BAY MINETTE, Ala.—(AP)—Wayfaring preachers have saved many souls. But only one I ever heard of saved a weekly newspaper.

He saved it for a friend of mine, Jimmy Faulkner, publisher of the Baldwin Times. And today when Jimmy talks about the Good Samaritan to his Sunday school class, the old Bible tale has a special meaning to him.

It's quite a story. And Jimmy is quite a story, too. At 20 he was one of the youngest weekly publishers in the country. He was also at 23, as head of the Alabama Press association, probably the youngest ever to head a state press group. At 24 he was reported the youngest mayor in America.

When the war came along Jimmy was in a position to grab for something easy. But he volunteered as a private in the air corps and became a B-25 bomber pilot instructor.

Now at 32 he is a member of the State Democratic Executive committee, and a rising figure in Alabama politics.

Jimmy is a symbol of the new tumult in the south. He thinks the excitement over the race issue is less important to the future welfare of the section than the permanent educational and economic improvement of its people—black as well as white. And he thinks conditions are improving rapidly.

When I first knew Jimmy we were roommates together back at the boarding house of Mrs. E. E. Tydings in Columbia, Mo. Jimmy had come to the University of Missouri because it had the oldest and one of the best journalism schools in the land; and his own state at that time had none. Now it does have.

He earned his way by hopping tables and wiping dishes at the boarding house and working in the school library. But when Jimmy had his education he didn't stay away from home—as so many southern boys did. He came back home to the state of his heart.

"I owed more than $12,000 before I was 21," Jimmy recalled. "The mortgages were falling due and I had no money to tide me over."

It was about this time a traveling preacher drove into town in a battered car to hold a revival. He came into Jimmy's office to ask for a small news story about the revival. He was tired and his suit had wrinkles. He even looked hungry, and Jimmy invited him over to his house for breakfast.

That was the only time he saw the preacher. But some weeks later he received a letter from him saying:

"I am impressed with what you are trying to do in your town, and it occurred to me you might need some money."

Recalling the meager appearance of the minister, Jimmy didn't think the man was in a position to help. But when he answered and said he was in a tight spot, back came a check for $1,000. Later he sent another check for $1,000.

"Without his help I would have lost my newspaper," said Jimmy. "Yet I met this man only once, and he didn't ask for security of any kind. He was the angel in my life."

Those lean years are past now. Jimmy repaid the stranger—with interest. But it taught him this lifelong lesson:

"Kindness begets kindness. There is no excuse for being on this earth unless we help our fellow man. And there is no excuse for a newspaper unless it helps to make its community better."

Pro-Nazis Find America's Doors Swing Wide Open to Admit Them

THE DAY WORLD WAR II ended muddle-heads in key spots in the U. S. government (especially in the State Department and Immigration Service) took over admission of Europeans into this country. The result has been a dangerous trend which is getting worse and worse. . . . It has reached the point where the American people should be told the facts so that they can decide what to do about it.

They have been admitting every prominent continental personality who applies—so long as he does NOT have an anti-nazi record. . . . Opera singers and musicians, especially, have been finding the door wide open.

And now comes Walter Gieseking, internationally famous German concert pianist, who is here for a tour—starting at New York's Carnazi Heil (where else?). . When his American managers were confronted with reports that Gieseking was a Nazi collaborator they published their answer in an eleven-page pamphlet...Let's take their claims point by point:

CLAIM: "To be sure Gieseking ..remained with his family in Europe during the war; he played the piano rather than enter the military service for which he was eligible. One may question Gieseking's wisdom in preferring to live in Germany and educate his daughters there after Hitler's course for the German Ship of State had become evident, but certainly neither Gieseking nor anyone else should be branded solely for reasons of citizenship."

ANSWER: Gieseking had a thousand opportunities from 1933 to 1939 to get out of Germany and denounce Hitler, without endangering his family. Thomas Mann and 1000 other heroes did.

CLAIM: That the concerts Gieseking played in German-occupied countries during the war were booked—not by Goebbels as charged—but only by managers through whom he had been doing business for years. Also, that he played in Turkey in 1944 only because he was under nazi civil conscription.

ANSWER: No business manager could book anybody in Hitler-occupied countries during World War II without the approval of the Nazi Government .. Gieseking gave 196 concerts during this period in occupied territory. Did he HAVE to work so hard?. ."Civil conscription" is another way of saying non-uniformed Nazi soldier.

CLAIM: That Gieseking did not refuse to play the music of "non-Aryan" composers but unfortunately after the war broke out his concerts in Germany were restricted to an approved repertoire.

ANSWER: Y'mean he goose-stepped to Hitler's orders like any Nazi? And what was "approved" music—the Horst Wessel Song?

CLAIM: That Gieseking played before Hitler only once (in 1937) and that he never played for Mussolini.

ANSWER: During World War II this pianazi gave concerts for (1) Hitler's Strength Through Joy Organization; (2) The Nazi Winter Relief Fund: (3) The Luftwaffe School for Political Commissars and (4) a school to train Nazi Party leaders.

CLAIM: That if Gieseking had been a cheap political opportunist in Germany he could have made much more money during the war than he had.

ANSWER: In 1935 Gieseking earned 84,500 marks. In 1942, he was paid almost twice as much—144,000 marks. Period.

Memorial Plan Pushed By Veterans

Groups Urged To Back Auditorium

Action to spur the building of a Richland County Living War Memorial was urged last night by members of the Richland Joint Veterans' committee.

The committee moved to focus attention on the proposed memorial in each of the county's veterans organizations. General discussion in the various organizations was urged at their next meetings.

The need of a building site for the memorial was stressed at the committee meeting. Until recently the committee had three tracts of land suitable for a building and recreation area, but it was disclosed last night that the lots have been put to other uses and are no longer available for the proposed memorial.

The committee further explained the architect must know the location of the site before rough sketches can be drawn up. Roslyne H. Todd, Richland JVC president, told the meeting other building sites may be available soon.

Election of officers of the JVC was held with Roslyne H. Todd, of the 37th Division Veterans association, re-elected president. Newly elected officers are Walter Bogantz, DAV, vice president; John Clements, American Legion Post 72, second vice president, and Paul Hammer, AVC, secretary-treasurer.

It was decided by the committee to recommend to their parent organizations that they write letters of protest to the Veterans Administration and their congressional representatives about the discontinuance of subsistence payments by the VA to apprentice barbers taking on-the-job training.

Death Ruled Suicide

Miss Moritz's Rites Set Saturday

Miss Elaine J. Moritz, 23, died early today at her home, 317 Third avenue, after drinking poison, Coroner D. C. Lavender said.

Despondent over injuries she suffered in an auto accident nearly three years ago, Miss Moritz was believed to have taken the poison with water she requested her father to bring to her at midnight, police said.

The young woman was reported to have suffered permanent crippling injuries in the accident on the Ashland hill Feb. 21, 1946.

A week ago today, a $35,000 personal damage suit, filed by Miss Moritz against the estate of Fred Miller jr., was settled for $1,500 after a Common Pleas jury heard the case. Miss Moritz was a passenger in the Miller youth's car when the car crashed through a billboard and rolled over an embankment. Miller was killed.

Miss Moritz was born on Feb. 18, 1925, in Mansfield and spent her entire life in the community. Surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Moritz; a brother, Steve, and three sisters, Mrs. Daisey Bayder, Mrs. Emily Kmetz and Mrs. Joseph Sheetz, all of Mansfield.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 1 p. m. at the Wappner funeral home. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

Law Professor Dies

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Underhill Moore, 69, visiting professor of law at Ohio State university, died of a heart attack in his home yesterday. He came here in the spring of 1948 after retiring as professor of law at Yale university in 1947.

Players Find Work Shop

Old Rural School's Busy Spot

By NITA BRANSON

Out at the abandoned Maple Grove school, southeast of Mansfield, there is a lot of pounding and building going on these days, but it's not a carpenter's job.

The workers are personnel of the Little theater group who are building sets for their next presentation, "A Murder Has Been Arranged," to be given Feb. 23 and 24, in John Simpson auditorium.

When the Little Theater organization began preparing for a second series of plays it had to find a place large enough to make sets or "props," as they are called in theater jargon. A second long-range aim was to have a community playhouse. The playhouse will have to wait; the "props" could not.

So when the Maple Grove school was available the Little Theater personnel took it over. They swept and cleaned and moved sets into one corner, making the center space large enough to erect sets.

Olan LaRue, superintendent of Madison schools, was a big help, according to Sheldon Clark, stage manager for the theater group. Many of their dress rehearsals, Clark said probably will be held at the school.

For the Little Theater's second presentation of the year, many things will be needed, Clark said. For instance, the "property plot" for the first act requires 13 different items, besides the stage setting.

13 ITEMS NEEDED

The items include dust sheets, revolver, decanter, glasses and syphon, cigarets, matches, telephone and table, book, napkins, cigarets in case, notebook and pencil, sheet of paper, two bowls of flowers and scissors.

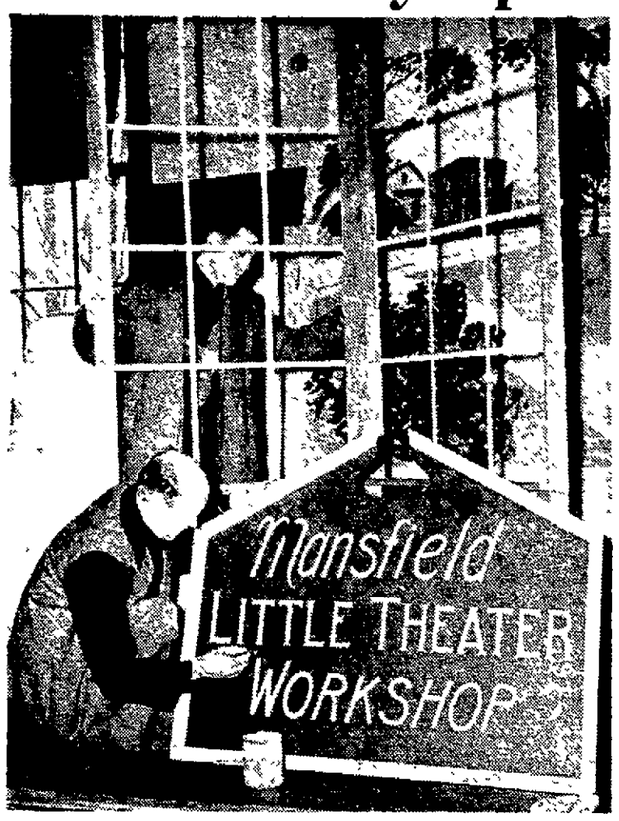
"The second act is not quite so bad as far as 'props' are concerned," Clark said, "but it does require about 10 items that must be supplied in the proper places, and at the right time."

They include a cocktail, manuscrit, horn-rimmed glasses, white carnation, attache case, papers in the case, small bottle of pills, penknife and red-stained handkerchief.

Only the revolver and blood-stained handkerchief suggest that the plot is a murder.

In addition to all these things, Clark must supervise the makesetting of an alcove, and other stage settings which, however, are not as extensive as in most plays since the action takes place on a gloomy theater stage, supposedly haunted.

"A Murder Has Been Arranged" is a play in which the audience watches the makings of a murder. It is a weird drama.



"PROPS"—There's a lot of carpentering and painting going on at the abandoned Maple Grove school southeast of Mansfield and it's not a contracting job. It's the stage crew of the Little Theater group getting their sets ready for "A Murder Has Been Arranged." W. G. Schultz, president of the group, puts finishing touches on the sign while Darrell Nichols sets up the framed alcover to be used on the stage. Nichols is in the cast of the play.

Parents See New School

Members of the East Mansfield School Parent-Teacher association viewed the new classrooms at the school Tuesday night.

Henry Sheets, principal of the school, conducted the tour of the school addition and told the group the school now has an enrollment of 450.

The PTA membership campaign which has been conducted since school opened was won by Mrs. P. H. Thrush's sixth grade class. Mrs. Joseph Bradley, program chairman, announced plans for a bazaar at the school March 18.

One of the features of the meeting was the presentation of flags for the new classrooms by four members of the Daughters of America, Mrs. Ada Robinson, Mrs. C. M. Avery, Mrs. Julia Grandstaff and Mrs. Clara Cramer. During the presentation ceremonies, Mrs. Robinson recited the poem, "Old Gloyr".

Rev Edward M. Welsh conducted the prayer service which closed the meeting, after which refreshments were served. Another session is planned for Feb 22, at the school.

200 Bankers Discuss Plan

Mansfield's four banks were host today to approximately 200 Ohio bankers at a meeting to discuss a plan for financing consumer purchases of household appliances. The plan is based on the idea that namufacturers will repurchase items on which the customer fails to fulfill the sale agreement.

In cooperation with the Consumer Credit committee of the Ohio Bankers association, invitations were issued by the Richland Trust company, the Citizens National Bank and Trust company, the Farmers Savings and Trust company, and the Mansfield Savings Trust National bank.

The session was scheduled from 1:30 to 4 p.m. in the Westinghouse auditorium.

Division Quotas Set In Fund Drive

Division quotas in the $48,835 annual Richland county Red Cross drive were announced today by Glenn L. Bierly, campaign chairman. The annual campaign will open March 1.

Shelby's quota is $6,500. The business group, headed by Tom Mowry, will be asked to raise $5,600. Other quotas include:

Women's division, Mrs. Richard Risser, chairman, $12,860; townships, Mrs. N. J. Marion, $4,595; industry,' Frank Berkey, chairman, $71,600; special gifts, $1,680.

The slogan for the campaign, set up nationally, is "You, too, can help through the Red Cross."

Bierly said two chairmen are needed in the women's division.

Mrs. Risser said all plans are completed but a chairman is needed for the fourth and sixth divisions. She asked that anyone who will volunteer to work during the campaign contact her at the chapter house, 1494-6.

A meeting for setting up the final publicity plans has been called for Tuesday, Feb. 1, at the chapter house by Al Preyer, publicity chairman.

Court Ruling Backs Mining Operators

CHARLESTON, W. VA. — (AP) — The state supreme court has backed up coal operators in their dispute with union officials over safety regulations.

The court, by a three-two vote, yesterday gave the mine operators the temporary right to assign substitute foremen to the fire bosses' job making safety inspections of the underground workings.

Civic Music Group Builds Waiting List

Mansfielders who would like to hold membership in the Mansfield Civic Music association will have a good chance of getting on the "list" if they act promptly, Edward D. Gibson, newly-elected president of the association, announced today.

Applicants were asked to send in their names and checks ($6 for the season) to Dean A. Eckert in care of the Farmers Savings and Trust company.

As vacancies occur in the membership, the names of those seeking membership will be added. Annual membership campaign of the association will be held later this spring.

Bromfield to Talk

Louis Bromfield will speak to the 28th annual meeting of the University of Cincinnati Business and Professional Men's group at Cincinnati Feb. 25. His subject will be "The Farm Problem In 1949."

PROMOTIONS

Men stationed at the Mansfield Army Recruiting center have been getting a number of promotions recently. Transfers have also been coming through for them. Sgt. John Lucas is going into extended active duty as a second lieutenant. He had a temporary commission during the war and when peace came he re-enlisted as a sergeant. Sgt. T. H. Elden has been promoted to sergeant first class, a rank corresponding to that of technical sergeant. He is going to an army personnel technicians' school at Camp Lee, Va. He has been stationed here since Dec., 1946. Sgt, Robert Beach also has been promoted to sergeant first class.

Tawse was graduated from Cornell Medical school and is now stationed with the navy at the Naval Hospital, Charleston, S. C. He plans to return to Mansfield later on for the practice of medicine, according to his family. A Crestline man, Robert L. Tracht, also passed the state examination.

Death Claims Mrs. Zehner

Mrs. Amanda Zehner, 69, widow of Charles Zehner, died Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frances Hamilton, 237 Parkway drive after a brief illness.

Mrs. Zehner was born Feb. 26, 1879 in Springfield township but had spent the greater part of her life in Mifflin township. She came to Mansfield 10 years ago.

Surviving, besides the daughter Mrs. Hamilton, are two stepsons, Melvin Zehner of Mohican and Gerald of Mifflin; a sister, Mrs. Hattie Siegfried of Springfield township and 10 grandhildren.

The body is at the Wappner funeral home where services will be conducted Friday at 1 p. m., by Rev. Carveth P Mitchell, church. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Senate Measure Studied

Maximum Set At $12,000

Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch last night told a Senate judiciary committee during a hearing in Columbus on salary increases for judges that a proposed emergency measure would increase average salaries of $5,000 a year for 115 judges in 75 counties to about $6,000 average.

The emergency bill was introduced by Senator Ralph A. Winter, whose district includes Richland county. The committee heard the bill but took no action.

Judge Kalbfleisch now receives $5,454.12 per year, with a $1,000 increase due beginning Feb. 9 when his new term starts. The increase will come out of state funds. There was no increase in the county's share of his salary.

The new pay scale would be seven cents per capita population of the county, to a maximum of $12,000 a year. A graduated scale now is used.

CITES REVENUE

Judge Kalbfleisch said the money for pay raises would come from each of the counties and not the state. He added that his court turned over to Richland county treasury a net 10 times his salary annually.

An administration-sponsored Fair Employment Practices bill was introduced in the House. It was offered by Reps. Ed Witmer (D-Stark), Lowell Fess (R-Greene) and William J. Hart (D-Cuyahoga).

It would create a five-member commission. Orders against discrimination based on race, color, religious creed, national origin or ancestry would be binding on employers, employment agencies and labor unions.

The commission would have to petition common pleas court to enforce its penalties. The proposal would exempt social clubs, fraternal and religious associations and employers of three or less people.

Other new legislation would:

Appropriate $7,500 for a memorial to honor George Harrison Shull of Clark county, inventor of hybrid corn. It also would pay tribute to his brothers, Aaron, Charles and John Scholl.

Turn $15,000,000 collected annually from taxes on bank stock and deposits into the general revenue fund. The money now is returned to the point of origin for local government use. By Sens. Clingan Jackson and Nicholas P. Bernard, both Youngstown Democrats.

Measures introduced in the House included plans for giving volunteer firemen and the dependants workmen's compensation benefits, and three-year driver licenses for $1. They would expire on holders' birthdays, with those born on leap years expiring March 1.

Both houses adjourn today until Monday.

7 Drivers Pay Fines

Seven violators paid a total of $80 in fines in Municipal Traffic court yesterday afternoon. Four of the drivers were found guilty of speeding.

Roy A. Evelyn, 48½ West Fourth street, was fined $15 and costs for failure to yield the right of way. He pleaded guilty to disregarding a stop sign Monday at Adams and Second street, which resulted in a collision with a station wagon driven by Mahlon E. Utz, 64 Bentley street. Utz suffered head injuries in the accident.

Charles E. Myers, 120 East Temple court, paid $10 and costs for failure to yield the right of way. He was found guilty by the court after entering a plea of innocent.

Norman H. Ream, 24 Bahl avenue, pleaded guilty to a charge of unsafe operation and paid $15 and costs.

Fined $10 and costs for speeding were Raymond Lumbert, 167 Vale avenue; David W. Rhoads, Mt. Vernon; Denny Landon, 811 Maple street; and Richard R. Hostetter, Mansfield, R. D. 3.

Gibson Chosen to Direct Civic Music Association

Edward D. Gibson, 282 West Fourth street, was elected to head the Mansfield Civic Music association at the annual meeting last night. Gibson was former secretary of the group.

Other officers, accepted unanimously recommendation of the nominating committee, included: Ruhland D. Islay, vice president; Keith B. Miller, vice president; William M. Layton, vice presidnet; Miss Myrtle Booth, vice president and campaign manager; John Grabler, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Stanley A. Richardson, recording secretary, Dean A. Eckert, treasurer; and Miss Hester Robinson, assistant treasurer.

William C. Mead served as nominating chairman for the election.

Named to the executive board of the association were: Robert B. Black, Royal S. Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Cropper, Roscoe M Gage, Mrs. Edward Gibson, Mrs. George W. Hall, Carl H. Henkel, Mrs. Louise Krause, Mrs. William M. Layton, Miss Florence MacDonald, W. C. Mead, W. L. Miller, Rev. Samuel U. J. Peard, Mrs. C. H. Platt, Dr. H. F. Plaut, Mrs. M. H. Pryor, Miss Thelma Reed, John G. Routzon, G. J. Searle, Mr. and Mrs. Orlo L. Smith and D. K. Woodman.

R. E. Nolan, a representative of the National Civic Music association of New York City, attended the meeting.

Tentative plans for the opening of the membership campaign this spring were made. Date of the campaign will be announced later.

AKRON — (AP) — Jack E. Beals, 25, died in City hospital yesterday of automobile accident injuries received Oct. 5.

Rites Set For Heinberger Child

Services for the still-born son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Heinberger, rear 351 Newman street, will be held Friday in charge of the Wappner funeral home. The child was dead at birth this morning at the family home.

Surviving, besides the parents, are her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Heinberger, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lambert, all of Mansfield.

BACKS HOUSING AID

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Frances Bolton (R—Ohio), says she will back federal aid for low-income housing because no private builder could afford to construct homes at sufficiently low cost to meet present needs.

Columbus East Threat to Tyger Win Streak

4 Players Holdout On Veeck

By LARRY SMITH

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Like everything else these days, a world's championship and an all-time attendance record in baseball come high.

President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians knows because he's already met with rebuffs in attempts to sign four of his key players.

Third Baseman Ken Keltner and fireball hurler Bob Feller are the latest to shy away from wet ink on a contract. Others objecting to terms are Pitchers Gene Bearden and Bob Lemon, who with Detroit's Hal Newhouser were the only 20-game winners in the American league last season.

"I expected this," Veeck said, "but I really don't look for any serious trouble. I've gone through this before, you know. Trying to sign players after they won a championship, I mean.

"I'm sure they'll come around because they know in the end they'll be well taken care of. They were last year and they know that they will be again. I'm not worrying about them."

It's a matter of personal pride with Veeck that he never has had any serious holdout trouble with any player.

CONFER 90 MINUTES

Feller and Veeck conferred for an hour and a half at the stadium offices yesterday afternoon but were unable to agree on a bonus clause based on home attendance.

The two plan to meet again Feb. 6 in New York, where they are to attend a baseball writers' banquet.

Keltner called Veeck yesterday from Milwaukee and is believed to have asked for a slightly better offer. Veeck told Keltner he would confer with him in Milwaukee Feb. 14.

- Bearden is believed to be holding out for $20,000, an increase of several thousand more than he was offered.

- Veeck has received no word from Lemon since his contract was mailed to him for the second time last week. Lemon had returned it unsigned.

The Feller-Veeck conference ended in an atmosphere of extreme politeness.

"We had a very amicable discussion," Veeck said as Feller was about to leave. "But there is some difference of opinion as to how many people we'll draw this year. The way the contract is drawn up now, a matter of a few thousand people more or less is important to Bob."

Veeck said he thinks the Indians again will draw 2,500,000 or more. Obviously, Feller does not. The Tribe actually drew 2,600,000 last season.

SAME BASE PAY

Under the proposed 1949 contract, Feller is said to be offered the same base pay he got last year, $40,000, but his bonuses would be pegged at a higher rate of paid admissions.

Last year it was believed that Feller's bonuses began at more that 1,000,000 paid admissions and extended beyond 1,750,000. His earnings supposedly amounted to $82,000.

It is believed that Feller was offered a contract that would assure him $65,000 provided the Indians drew 2,500,000 people. This would be a slash in pay of about $18,000. Feller has said he didn't believe his pay would be cut more than $10,000.

3 Lettermen Boost Stock Of Invaders

One of the biggest threats to the long Senior high school home court basketball winning streak will be posed tomorrow night when the tough Columbus East quintet invades the Tyger lair. Senior high has won 17 consecutive games at home.

Perhaps the East won-lost record doesn't look too impressive but the Columbus school's cage team is plenty rugged. East has won nine of 13 games and holds down third-place in the seven-team Columbus city league.

In city play East has won four of six, losing only to North and Central. Tuesday night, East concluded its first round schedule with a convincing 67-to-49 victory over Columbus West. The defeat knocked West out of a tie for first place.

BEST CHANCE

Lou Berliner of the Columbus Dispatch says "East has the best chance of any school of dethroning Central, defending city and district champion. It's a good ball club."

Three lettermen grace the squad and each of the trio goes six-foot or better. The veterans are: Luther Towers and George Powers at the forwards and Johnny Johnson at center. The other starters—Ken Mizelle and Ted Hughes—are a pair of fast lads who hit about 5-11.

Towers, the tallest lad at 6-2, is a scoring scourge in the city league. He has popped in 82 field goals and 54 foul shots for a total of 218 points and an average of 16.8 per game. The 218 total is good for second place in the greater Columbus scoring standings.

Also averaging over 10 points is Johnson. He has counted 54 fielders and 23 fouls for a 131 total.

The well-coached East team has been a spoiler away from home. It has beaten Portsmouth and Marietta on their home courts and both of these clubs seldom fall at home.

Bucky Walter, former Capital star, is in his first year as East coach. He tutored the East reserves last season and was elevated to the varsity job this year. East has averaged 55 points to 48.5 for the opposition.

★

Tyger Coach Vern Hoffman was crying the blues today—and with plenty of reason. His co-captains, Paul Ferguson and Norb Shibinski, were banged up in the Fremont tussel and were unable to practice last night.

Both players are taking treatments and may be able to go tomorrow. But Hoffman is not counting too much on their being able to move at full speed, if at all.

So yesterday, Ed Demyan moved to center with Ed Schmitt and Bernie Weaver alternating at one forward spot. Charlie Marchant and A. C. Jenkins were holding down Ferguson's guard job.

★

Slender Jimmy Anderson tops the Senior high scoring with 162 points while Norb Shibinski comes in with 149.

Joe DiMaggio Is Reported Asking For $90,000 Pay

NEW YORK—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio was reported today to have turned down a $10,000 raise from the New York Yankees and to be seeking a contract that would make him the highest paid player in baseball history.

Friends mentioned sums like $90,000 and $100,000, but no figures came from the principals.

Following a salary conference yesterday with Yankee officials, DiMaggio said only:

"The Yankees made me an offer. I made no counter offer. My understanding is that after a few days they will call me up and we will have another session. Until then I am not going to say whether it will be a quick or a delayed signing."

Del Webb, co-owner of the Yankees, asserted "We're pretty close to coming to terms. I'm sure there won't be any trouble."

INCREASE OF 10

The contract offered DiMaggio reportedly called for $65,000 in basic salary, compared to $55,000 a year ago, and a bonus if the Yanks' home attendance exceeds 1,500.000. Last year the Yanks drew 3,400.000 and DiMaggio drew a $15,000 bonus, making his aggregate pay for 1948, $70,000.

Joltin' Joe was represented as opposed to the bonus arrangement. He is understood to prefer a higher straight salary and a two-year or long contract. If offered a long-term contract friends hinted he would sign for less. However, if offered only a one-year contract DiMaggio was understood to be ready to ask anywhere between $80,000 and $100,000.

Simpson Rally Lacks Power, A's Win 33-29

By TOM McCULLOCH

A last half rally fell short for the John Simpson Bulldogs as they lost their sixth game in eight starts to the Ashland junior varsity, 33-29, yesterday at Simpson.

Simpson took an early lead but couldn't hold it as Ashland took an 8-6 advantage at the end of the first quarter and never relinquished it. It led at the other periods, 19-9, and 25-17.

Brand of Ashland topped the scorers with 14 points while Bill Semenoff had 10 counters for Simpson. Benny Carbetta of Simpson and Woelfling of Ashland were next with seven points apiece. Semenoff fouled out early in the fourth quarter.

In the preliminary, Simpson's reserve team edged Ashland ninth graders, 21-18.

This Fellow Makes 'Dead-Eye Dick' a Piker

By BILL VAN HORNE
(Sports Editor, Martins Ferry Times-Leader)

MARTINS FERRY — (NS) — In these days of basketball "goons" in which many stars of the hardwood sport owe their success more to altitude than to aptitude, it's refreshing to note that the scoring sensation of Ohio schoolboy ranks is a 5 foot, 7-inch runt.

Situated along the Ohio river at the southern end of Jefferson county, Yorkville has long been a Class B basketball power and in 1943 captured the state "B" championship. But never before have fans there seen a player who can fire the leather through the cords like eagle-eyed Ken Alessi.

The half-pint Alessi made the all-Ohio listings last winter when he scorched the hoops with 845 points in 31 games to shatter all-time scoring marks in these parts. He's out to surpass his own record this winter.

The 17-year-old forward is the only holdover regular on Coach Joe Closser's quint. Naturally, he's a marked man in every game. Yet he has pitched in 680 points in 20 starts so far this season, an average of better than 33 per game.

How a player of Alessi's size gets so many points is a source of never-ending wonder to coaches, even those who have been victimized by his magic. Certainly he can't collect many "cheap" baskets on tipins. He isn't tall enough. Certainly he hasn't compiled his record against cream-puff opposition. The Yorks have one of the toughest schedules of any Class B school in Ohio.

Half of Yorkville's 26 pretourney games this season are scheduled against Class A foes and four of the seven defeats they've sustained so far have been inflicted by "A" powers.

The Yorkville ace whipped 65 points past the horrified eyes of a thoroughly beaten Adena high quintet Tuesday night for perhaps an all-time scoring "first." Yorkville kayoed Adena, 93 to 59, as the little marvel dropped in 25 goals and 15 of 20 free tosses.

Last night, Alessi tossed together a 55-point barrage as his team defeated Dillonvale, 73 to 46. He rammed home 23 of 47 field goal tries and nine of ten free throws.

Alessi had his third biggest night of the season for a losing cause as he hooped 42 points in a tilt with Mingo, one of the top-rated "A" clubs of Jefferson county.

Coach Closser says that Alessi's greatest assets are "remarkable coordination and timing and a terrific will to win." The boy's equally deadly with either hand. He is a master of a jump shot that enables him to tally against much taller guards. His set shots ruin zone defenses. His speed and clever faking shake him loose for many lay-up goals.

Kenny has been playing basketball since he was in the fourth grade and attributes his success to the fact that he's practiced more than the next fellow.

Alessi is not merely a one-sport standout. He's also the shortstop on the York baseball team and was an all-eastern Ohio selection in football. Although weighing only 145 pounds, he starred at halfback on a York team which lost only one game.

Opposing coaches have tried just about every trick in the book to stop this pocket edition of Superman but their strategy usually backfires. To foul Alessi is to give away points. He's converted 172 free throws out of 217 chances this season. That's a percentage of .819.

He's rung the bell with nearly 35 per cent of his field goal tries.

Mitsch's Five, Lumberjacks Win B Games

Mitsch's Corner store and the Home Materials Lumberjacks remained undefeated in second half play of the National basketball league last night by chalking up convincing wins. It was the Lumberjacks third victory and Mitsch's second.

Mitsch's handed the Salesmen their first setback, 64-34 after leading by only 28-22 at the half. Eldon Pritchard and Joe Radio led Mitsch's with 17 and 15 points while Keen of the Salesmen pumped in 15.

Home Materials built up a 20-11 lead at the half and then coasted to a 38-31 victory over AVC.

In the third game, Au Construction handed the Independents their third straight setback, 36-28. Au led only 16-15 at the half.

Penn Auto 5 Can Take Top

Penn Auto-Sporting Goods has a chance to move ahead in the City A league basketball race tonight when it goes after its fourth victory in five starts. Ohio Sport Center and Rogers Jewelry who have 3-1 marks are idle.

Penn will meet Urschel Insurance in the 8 p.m. second game of tonight's program at John Simpson junior high. Komito's Clothes will meet Richland Beverage at 7 p.m. while Martin Hardware tackles Yuncker Sports in the nightcap.

Freddies Slate 'Game of Year'

FREDERICTOWN — High school basketball's "game of the year" has been scheduled for Saturday night Feb. 5 at Kenyon college gym in Gambier. Fredericktown will meet Lima St. Rose.

The Lima team lost to Eaton in the Class B state finals last year, 45-36. St. Rose lost only one man from last year's quintet and is one of the favorites for the state Class B title. Fredericktown has won 17 straight.

Ram Basketball Squadmen Build Up Scoring Marks

Madison high basktball players, while losing two games during the past week, have nevertheless built up their scoring averages.

Statistics released today show Ed Chelski having increased his average to 12.1 points per game of an 11.8 figure of a week ago. Joe Distl made the biggest jump as he moved into second place with an 8.4 average. He had 7.3 last week.

Foul shooting still is the Rams' big forte, all the regulars being well over the .500 mark. The team as a whole has converted on 135 of 235 shots.

Madison will be host to the tough Columbus Linden-McKinley team tomorrow night. The Rams have lost three straight, their longest losing streak of the season, and will have to pull an upset to keep from adding another loss tomorrow night.

Bill Predicts Tribe to Win Again In 1949

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus' civic organizations held a "Bill Veeck" night last night to pay tribute to the Cleveland Indians and their leaders.

In a speech, Veeck predicted the Indians would win the 1949 American league pennant by a much larger margin than last year. He added that "Bob Feller became a pitcher last year—instead of a thrower." One thousand persons attended the program in Bucyrus high school auditorium.

George "Red" Trautman, Bucyrus native and president of the National Association of Baseball Leagues, acted as toastmaster.

Proceeds from ticket sales will be used for maintenance of municipal recreational facilities in Bucyrus.

The sport-shirted Cleveland baseball magnate related many humorous incidents occurring during the Indians' pennant drive last year.

Three films were shown by Veeck. They were "Pitching Stars," "Double Play Kings," and the 1948 World Series.

Organizations sponsoring the Clevelander's appearance here included the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Elks, Knights of Pythias, Redmen Booster club, Rotary, Eagles, Lions, YMCA, Knights of Columbus, Kiwanis, Moose, Bucyrus Baseball commission and Bucyrus Recreation commission.

Floyd Messmore Bangs Big 677 Count; Bissman's Increases Loop Leadership

Floyd Messmore sat on Mansfield's 'bowling throne' today after rolling a 243-199-235—677 for Bissman's in the City A league last night.

Messmore led Bissman's to a two out of three victory over Jerry's 36 Bar, pushing the second place team to three games behind. The leading Bissman's team had scores of 991 and 2849.

Three other A leaguers were over the 600 mark. Aid Geiger of Ideal Billiards was runner-up with 196-204-221—621 while Don Hipp of Max Diner had 188-225-192—605 and Ed Henrich of Ace Cabs, 183-219-200—602.

Jack Hanrahan of the Eagles just missed the mark with 204-191-202—597. Emil Schroeder of Mid-Ohio Amusement turned in 593, Carl Englehorn, Mitsch's, 580; Bob Lynch, Bissman's, 579; John Bernat, 36 Bar, 573, and John Leppo, 568.

★

Westinghouse A leaguers were led by R. Cross who had a 221 single game and a 588 series. Dana Moxley was second with 560 followed by T. Santoro, 459, and Frank Kudika, 531.

S. Williams topped the "E" loop with 193-185-163—541. Other scores in the three "E" matches included K. Roberts' 513 and L. Wiley's 497.

★

Home Interiors lost a golden opportunity to move into first place in the Victory league when it lost two of three games to Mansfield Machine. OSR, one game ahead of Interior in the standings, also dropped two to Ideal Office.

Dick Irvin was the top individual with a 535 series while J. Elliott of Ideal Production was close behind with 533 and Harlow Hesson of OSR with 532. Ray Foss of Tony's Canfield had 521 and R. Shade of Ideal Panel, 518.

★

J. Henry paced Isaly's bowlers with a 225 single game and 508 series. Houston was next in line with 472 while H. Swan had 463 and Sam Hildebrand, 454.

★

Audrey Campbell led the Dominion Women's league with a 461 score. Nellie Bonecutter had 406, Pat Mehl, 408, and Edna Bricker, 404.

★

Jerry Dillon was tops in the St. Peter's Alumni circuit with 143-202-212-557 while Bob Tipul cashed in with 143-193-171-507. Others: Bob Kasper, 474 and Ray Dillon, 471.

★

Lead in the Richland Ladies league was taken by Hon Wehinger, McCarrick's Gulf, with 170-171-148-489. Her teammate Ev Swank followed with 157-185-144-486.

Kay's Shoppe knocked off Ringside in the only three-game sweep. McCarrick's led the team with 2,251 pins.

Trailing in the individual scoring department were: Billie Cleckner Kay's 476; Ginny Rhoads, Fairview Bar, 472; Sis DeWeese, Kay's, 465 and Peg Shoup, Fairview, 460.

Veeck Was Only Kidding About Buying Yankees

CLEVELAND — (UP) — Cleveland Indians President Bill Veeck today denied that he was interested in buying the New York Yankees.

Veeck confirmed a report published in New York that he had asked Del Webb, co-owner of the Yankees, if the club were for sale, but he said it was only "a kidding conversation.

"In the first place I don't think they would sell," Veeck said, "and in the second place I'm perfectly content where I am."

O.K. TO STRETCH

Little Mary, age 5, was impatiently waiting for her mother to serve the Grape-Nuts Wheat-Meal at breakfast one morning.

Her mother had all the dishes before her, when Mary, who couldn't wait any longer for this delicious hot cereal, reached over and grabbed her dish.

Her mother admonishingly said: "Mary, haven't you a tongue?"

"Yes, Mommy," replied Mary, "but my arm is longer!"
